Lady Raiders Return To State Tournament

Sweep Scottsbluff in Subdistrict, then Omaha-Duchesne in District Final

MIKE MOTZ/SIDNEY SUN-TELEGRAPH

The Lady Raiders celebrate after defeating Omaha-Duchesne Saturday afternoon at the Cabela's Performance Center at Sidney High School. The Lady Raiders traveled to Lincoln for the NSAA State Tournament for the first time since 2019.

by Mike Motz, Sidney Sun Telegraph

It was fitting that Sidney's Lady Raider Volleyball team punched their ticket to the 2022 NSAA State Tournament with a three-set sweep of Omaha-Duchesne Academy on Saturday afternoon as it was that same Omaha-Duchesne Academy team that bounced the Lady Raiders from the State Tournament the last time the Lady Raiders qualified back in 2019. Sidney owns a 28-and-6 record, is undefeated at 6-and-0 in District competition, and does not seem to be a team preoccupied with the past or "looking back" at seasons that ended with the terms "might of" or "if only". This is a team that is ready for now, and look to go deep in the Tournament in Lincoln.

The Lady Raiders are a very strong offensive team with big hitters, and also are stacked with athletic and rangy players that not only cover the entire court well, but are willing to go into the bleachers to make a play. After a regular season that had them build a gaudy 25 win record, the Lady Raiders earned

Ducks Unlimited Seeking To Revive Sidney Chapter

by Mike Motz, Sidney Sun-Telegraph

Ducks Unlimited, the worldwide waterfowl conservation organization, is looking to revive the dormant Sidney Chapter, which was a flourishing chapter here in Cheyenne County just a few years ago. With the sale of Cabela's, however, many DU members have moved out of the area or let their memberships lapse, leaving a need for a membership drive to revitalize the chapter.

Pat Boughman is the Senior Regional Director for Western Nebraska for Ducks Unlimited, and he was in town last week for a registration drive. He commented on how the Sidney Chapter was very popular not too long ago, and Ducks Unlimited is making a concerted effort to get the Sidney Chapter active.

Focused on waterfowl conservation, DU takes a continental, landscape approach to wetland conservation. Since 1937, DU has conserved nearly 15 million acres of waterfowl habitat in North America. DU works in all 50 states, and focuses its efforts on habitats most beneficial to waterfowl.

Ducks Unlimited has many events in Nebraska, and is looking to expand those events into the Sidney area. Besides waterfowl habitat conservation efforts, DU also offers dog training and shooting skills instruction as well as waterfowl research and identification.

For more information on Ducks Unlimited, please call Pat Boughman at 308-986-2374, email at pbaughman@ducks.org, or visit www.ducks.org for more information.

Fraas Honored For Downtown Lighting Work

Sidney Mayor Roger Gallaway publicly commends Larry Fraas in the Oct. 25 city council meeting for his dedication in maintaining the downtown lights. Fraas is holding a gift presented to him by the City.

by Mike Motz, Sidney Sun-Telegraph

Larry Fraas has been instrumental in keeping Sidney's downtown area illuminated and inviting for residents and visitors alike, and has been honored by the Sidney City Council for his efforts. An idea that was presented at a Cheyenne County Chamber of Commerce meeting in 1997 to add roof-top lighting became a reality by December of that year due to the efforts of Fraas.

Fraas was committed to making the project a reality, showing up before and after work seven days a week to ensure the project was completed and correct. The result was a lit-up downtown skyline in time for Christmas of that year. The lighting project was a continuing effort, requiring constant maintenance and expansion to other buildings outside the downtown area, like the Sidney Public Library. In 1999 when Sidney was hit by a damaging hailstorm, Fraas coordinated and led the effort to replace the damaged bulbs in the downtown area. For 16 years, Fraas made sure the bulbs and strings of lights were working and in good repair while expanding the lighting program to other buildings in Sidney. Fraas continued to add additional lighting and bulb strings, amounting to a total of 5,137 bulbs.

In 2022, a 10-person committee was formed to replace all of the bulbs and restore the downtown area to its original illumination. It was then realized the tremendous effort Fraas had put in over the years to the lighting project for the City of Sidney.

"Larry's efforts have enhanced the appearance of the City of Sidney for local residents and visitors alike, and his tireless work and dedication is unmatched," a proclamation in Fraas' honor reads.

Sidney Mayor Roger Gallaway also thanked Fraas for his work and dedication, saying, "It has been a project near and dear to many and we can't thank you enough."

Encouragement from the Secretary of State

A political satire by - Lester Ralston

To all Nebraska voters,

As Secretary of State for the Great State of Nebraska, one of my responsibilities is to oversee all elections within the state.
Thank you for voting in the primary election this year. I'm sorry if it didn't end as you hoped it would. Please don't be upset, "You win some and you lose some".
I counted the votes myself and decided you were unsuccessful. The machine count shows you received 100 fewer votes than I received.
Yes, I guess I could run them through the machine again, but the machine doesn't make mistakes, so I'm certain the count would be the same. No, I'm sorry but the margin between the counts is not close enough that it requires an actual hand re-count. If you would insist on an actual hand re-count you will have to pay 'boo koo bucks'. I am sorry that you can't afford that, so the election stands just as I certified it.
Of course, I'm a good guy, that's why I'm the one who counts. No, I apologize, but you are not qualified to count the ballots, and of course you can not re-count them either.
Yes, I know that the machines can be programmed and manipulated to alter the outcome of elections. But, I promise you, I always only count the actual votes. And the machines I select are on the cutting edge of technology and I certify them as being accurate. (I'm not a machine guy, but I have talked to the guys who sell them).
Yes, as of right now, it is legal for the election officials of any county to hand count the ballots of that county. And yes, a hand count with multiple witnesses from both sides of an issue (and maybe video recording) would eliminate all questions about the integrity and the transparency of the actual count, and would also almost eliminate all re-counts. However with a hand count there might be a delay in getting the final tally.
But you have to understand, having an accurate and honest outcome that might take two days longer to finish is not acceptable, because I need a "slam bam thank you ma'am" answer in two hours.
Do not let your county election officials do an actual hand count of this election because I need to know the winners before I go to bed on November 8th.
Just trust me.
I was elected once, and probably will be again.

Any item(s) listed above as "personal property" are subject to removal by the previous lessee. All right, title and interest in any items listed as "Trust owned", shall remain with the School Land Trust.

To be eligible to bid on a school land lease, you must be able to contract in accordance with Nebraska Law and have deposited with a representative of the Board, or with the County Treasurer of the County in which the land is located, a bank draft, cashier's check, certified check or money order made payable to the Board of Educational Lands and Funds equal to the 2023 rental of said tract. Said rental deposit may be submitted at any time until the tract is announced "Sold".

If more than one qualified bidder is interested in a lease, it will be sold subject to Board approval, to the party bidding the highest bonus, in addition to the first year's rent, at the auction. Bonus bids must be paid to the Board of Educational Lands and Funds immediately following the auction. Bonus bids are a one-time payment covering the entire term of the lease.

All sales of educational land leases at public auction are non-revocable offers from the bidder, which shall become binding contracts only upon acceptance and approval by the Board of Educational Lands and Funds. Leases will be effective January 1, 2023, or upon acceptance and approval by the Board, whichever occurs later.

Leases will be issued only to those who sign the "Lease and Application" in person or through an Attorney-In-Fact who presents a Power of Attorney at the time of the auction. A sample Power of Attorney form is available on the Board's website. Lease assignments submitted to the Board within 30 days of the auction will be processed without fee. The Board's standard form lease sets out the terms of the lease of the real estate to which this notice pertains; provided, however, any additional stipulations pertaining specifically to this real estate, which are included in this notice, shall become a part of the complete terms of the lease pertaining to this real estate. The Board's standard form lease may be inspected at the County Treasurer's office or on the Board's website and a copy, which includes any additional stipulations pertaining to this real estate, can be obtained by contacting the Board's Lincoln office or the Field Representative for this county named above.

The successful bidder shall, within thirty days of the date of Board approval, pay the amount of the value of the improvements (and growing crops, if applicable) as stated above, to the County Treasurer of the County wherein the land is situated. If such payment is not made on time and in full, all payments made by the successful bidder to the Board may be declared forfeited and a new lease or sale of the land may be authorized. All improvements affixed to the land which are not listed above are and shall remain owned by the School Trust. No improvements shall be placed on the land by Lessee without the prior written approval of the Board; and any improvements made by Lessee without the prior written approval of the Board shall be permanently owned exclusively by the Board.

All monies received by the Board's agents will be deposited subject to approval of the lease by the Board of Educational Lands and Funds. In the event a lease is not approved, the appropriate refunds will be issued.

Rental is subject to change by the Board semi-annually at any time during the term of the lease.

The Lessee making each election to harvest fall-seeded crops will pay the 2023 rent on those acres. In the event of such election, the successful bidder, if other than the previous Lessee, will receive a refund of 2023 rent equal to the amount so paid by the previous Lessee.

Your attendance at this auction is at your own risk. The Board of Educational Lands and Funds shall not be liable for any exposure to, or contraction of, any illness or injury. The Board of Educational Lands and Funds reserves the right to restrict attendance at this auction.

State Scraps

Blackleg has appeared among the cattle in Dodge County.

Buckwheat is scarce this year and the man who gets pancakes will have to scratch around.

The Fogg House in Schuyler burned last Monday night. Loss, $3,000; insurance, $2,500.

The delinquent tax list in Colfax County makes just twelve lines. Not a very fat take surely.

In Hamilton County they are talking of funding the floating debt of the county, which is $50,000.

In Richardson County, this State, apples have been selling at sixty cents per bushel, and peaches from 75 cents to $1.00.

A Columbus justice fined a tramp $30 for the paltry offense of stealing an overcoat. We don't know what happened after that.

The "News", Sterling, Johnson County says that in the past twelve days between the hours of 7 a.m. And 6 p.m., over 250 emigrant wagons passed through that town.

Cedar County Bulletin, 10th: "Selfish Omaha is again showing her antagonism towards the advancement of Northern Nebraska. No sooner that an order is received to remove the Spotted Tail and Red Cloud Indians to the Missouri River, than a howl comes from this selfish city, fearing that Northern Nebraska might receive some benefit by the change."

Railroad Gossip

Foreman O.V. Morrison discharged several young Sidney boys from the U.P. roundhouse force this week for doing some malicious mischief on Hallowe'en.

The U.P. Will soon enlarge its local yards by an addition of about one thousand feet of trackage on the west end. The grading for this improvement was completed about two years ago, but the project was abandoned when the roundhouse closed.

Harry Parker, the well-known brakeman, running on train No. 101 between here and North Platte, has inaugurated a policy that should be adopted by all trainmen on passenger trains. After the train leaves Lodgepole he passes through and shouts in a loud voice, "the next station will be Sidney" and when within a mile of the town he again shouts "don't forget your packages."

Miss Allen is going to have her rhetorical exercises every morning consisting of two or three numbers and it will occupy the time of opening exercises.

The botany class closed their last lesson last week for the winter as the study cannot be continued during the winter months without flowers. The class will now begin English literature.

At Last A Crimp In The Bootlegging Game

The city government has been working under quite a handicap in attempting to stem the tide of bootleggers and wrongdoers that infest the city. Last week Chief of Police Waite captured a trio of young bloods who were openly parading their fearlessness of the law and took car, booze and boys. Though they got away, they were returned and this case is now filed with the city attorney, we are informed.

Last Saturday night Chief Waite and Night Policeman John Call caught a man, local to the county, and his trial was heard before Police Judge McClenghan Monday afternoon. The testimony of both officers was to the effect that they had gone to the alley north of LeSueur's, looking for booze or conveyors thereof, having being tipped off that booze would be delivered there. They testified to finding a man, grappling him and to his throwing one or more bottles from each hand, and that they then picked up the bottles and brought them into court. The defendant denied having booze or being in the alley except for using it for a short cut from the west crossing to the Bee Restaurant. He admitted the officers picking up the bottles but denied that he had thrown them.

Goldwyn Kratz represented the state in absence of his partner R.P. Kepler. Miles appeared for the defendant. The evidence given showed strong enough to move Judge McCleneghan to find the defendant guilty as charged and to fine him $100 and costs; his attorney immediately appealed. Bond was given for $200 and the defendant released for the time.

Chief Waite and Policeman Call backed by the Mayor and Council, have been trying to improve the conditions here, but have had little aid and much hindrance from sources which are supposed to uphold the law. Every law-abiding, clean-living citizen should back up the city police who have succeeded in breaking through the line of almost solid wall of the law-resisting element

Local Farmer Hurt Friday

Snyder Is Hurt In Accident With Runaway Horses

Carl Synder, tenant on the C.H. Fuller farm west of Sidney, suffered a fractured vertebra and severe lacerations and abrasions about the scalp and face Friday when he was thrown from a wagon drawn by two runaway horses.

The accident happened early Friday afternoon as Synder and his young son George, were riding in an otherwise empty wagon drawn by the team through the yard of the farm. It is believed the boards rattling in the wagon may have startled the horses and precipitated the runaway.

Synder was thrown out of the wagon and as he fell to the ground a wheel passed over his back, fracturing the fifth lumbar vertebra on the left side. Young George, who was not injured, remained in the wagon as the horses galloped to a nearby pasture where they finally came to a halt.

The Gehrig ambulance and doctor B.H. Grimm were called to the farm and Synder was rushed to the Taylor Hospital for treatment. Dr. Grimm reports that the 50 year-old victim was suffering from severe shock and will have to remain at the hospital for several days. He will be put in a body cast to hold the vertebra in place but will be able to be up and about.

Schools To Participate In Drug Education Week

Next week has been named Drug Education Week for Cheyenne County, according to the Cheyenne County Drug Council. Programs will be presented during the week which will include all ages, featuring the services of "Teen Challenge of Colorado, Inc."

Teen Challenge was founded by Rev. David Wilkerson, author of "The Cross and the Switchblade," to help addicts, alcoholics, gang members and other troubled youth. It began in New York City, is now in 53 major cities, and boasts a growing center in Colorado. Statistics show that 69 percent of the addicts that go through the Teen Challenge program return to a fruitful position in society.

Royce Nimmons, executive director of Teen Challenge in Colorado since 1970, and two young ex-drug addicts, will be introduced at the Cheyenne County Drug Council meeting on Nov. 8, at 8 p.m. in the Sidney High School cafeteria. They will present a program on drug abuse. This program will also be presented in every secondary school in Cheyenne County during Drug Education Week.

In conjunction with the Teen Challenge activities in the county during Drug Education Week, the film "Art Linkletter Talks to Children" will be presented to grades kindergarten through six in most Cheyenne County grade schools. The film will last approximately 30 minutes and will be followed by discussion. Parents are welcome and urged to attend the film at the time it is being shown at a nearby elementary school.

Something Old, Something New

What's going on at The American National Bank these days is a fascinating project, the ultimate goal if which is to blend the traditional with the contemporary, preserving more than a century of heritage while incorporating modern architecture and design of the 1990s.

It sounds complicated, but when bank President Michael Leininger gives you the personal tour of the premises you can see it unfolding into one of the region's most compelling construction and remodeling projects of our times.

The objective, says Leininger, is to recapture some of the 108-year history of what is probably western Nebraska's oldest bank while accommodating technology essential to modern banking. The corner portion of the sprawling bank, which was built in 1916 while the pioneer McIntosh family still was in control, is to be renovated to resemble the original appearance.

Part of the renovation will be the re-installation of iron bars on the windows, a carryover from the old days when banks were more susceptible to armed robbery. It isn't that bank officials feel the bank's security is threatened. The goal is to keep in touch with tradition, restore the exterior closely to its original 1916 design and perhaps eventually reinvigorate the hope that this original bank structure could be qualified as part of the national heritage.

Meanwhile, the construction crew of John Wieser has torn out walls, removed carper and relocated all the tellers to a back room location where business is proceeding as usual. If you are a regular bank patron and walk into what has always been the main entrance, you may think a bomb has been dropped and the tellers are on strike.

What A Trip: Sidney Actress Injured In On-Stage Fall

The show must go on. Those involved in theater know this saying well, but many actors can go a lifetime without having to suffer through a situation that may stop a show.

Pam Arrington has. She can tell you it was a painful experience. Arrington is a cast member of the Way Out West Community Theater production of "Hello, Dolly!!" She was performing during last Sunday's matinee when she took a nasty fall—extremely nasty.

"I got tripped up in my skirt and lost my balance," Arrington said. I went sideways and wasn't able to catch myself."

Yes, the injury was serious.

"It ripped the bone from my (shoulder) socket," she said. "It broke the ball off the end of my arm bone. I've still got pieces of bone floating in there, even after the surgery."

The surgery was eight hours later. First, Arrington had to go back on stage because, well, the show must go on.

Todd Nienhueser, who directed the musical and is in the cast, was with Arrington when she fell. In fact, he also fell, being tripped up by her. He wasn't injured.

The audience was aware something had happened because one of the set walls was also knocked over in the commotion. That was quickly replaced and the show continued without missing a beat.

"The audience had no idea what was going on," Nienhueser said. "When Pam went back on stage, she was in character except that she wasn't moving her right arm much. But, she was just as animated as before (the accident).

WNCC VOLLEYBALL HEADS INTO REGION IX TOURNAMENT

Staff Report~The Western Nebraska Community College volleyball team will be riding plenty of momentum as they head into the Region IX volleyball tournament, which begins Wednesday in Casper, Wyoming.

WNCC earned the top seed from the south sub-region for this week's regional tournament and the Cougars will be taking a lofty 29-3 record into the 8-team tourney. WNCC finished the south sub-region with an unblemished conference record at 10-0 while entering with a 12-match winning streak.

The Cougars open regional tournament play Wednesday at 5 p.m. against Casper College. The Thunderbirds enter as the fourth seed from the north sub-region.

The rest of the first round will pit North 2 Laramie County Community College against South 3 McCook Community College at 1 p.m.; South 2 Northeastern Junior College against North 3 Northwest College at 3 p.m.; and North 1 and fifth-ranked Central Wyoming College against South 4 Otero College at 7 p.m.

The winners advance to Thursday's semifinals at 4 and 6 p.m. with the winners facing off for the Northwest Plains A Region IX title Friday at 4 p.m.

If WNCC wins Wednesday, they will play the winner of the LCCC and McCook contest Thursday at 4 p.m. A loss will send the Cougars to the second regional title bracket and a noon meeting with the loser of the LCCC/McCook match. The winner of the second regional tournament bracket will win the Northwest Plains B title and also qualify for the NJCAA national tournament.

For the eight sophomores that were a part of last year's team, they are focused because of how last season ended. Those eight do not want that feeling repeated when they lost to Eastern Wyoming College in Saturday's morning match on their own court ending their season one match short of the championship game.

Sophomore Juliana Oliveira remembers last year and said that loss has the team motivated.

"After a tough loss last year in our home gym, we know we have unfinished business and it has motivated us throughout the entire season to take regionals," the sophomore from Brazil said. "We just need to play united as a team and start off strong and play hard throughout the entire tournament."

Like any tournament, however, records mean very little as every team starts out at 0-0. WNCC head coach Binny Canales said the tournament will be difficult and his team has to be ready to play.

"I know they (Casper) have played a really tough schedule and they don't have a lot of wins but they beat Northwest in the last match of the year of the regular season," Canales said. "You never know. Angel (Sharman, Casper coach) does a great job so we have to be prepared and not take anybody lightly."

Plus, all eight teams are capable of picking up wins at any time just like they did during the season when lower teams beat higher teams.

"It will be very difficult," Canales said. "You have two top-5 teams and you have NJC which is a battle every time we play them. Then you have other teams that raise their level for the regional tournament. It will be tough every match. The national tournament is our goal but right now it is just taking one game at a time and try to get in position to win."

WNCC is 4-0 against Casper this season having swept them all four times. The Cougars are 15-1 against teams in the regional tournament with their only loss coming to No. 5-ranked Central Wyoming on Sept. 17 at Cougar Palace in five sets.

It is possible that WNCC and Central Wyoming could be facing each other in the first title match on Friday. But freshman setter Shanelle Martinez said they have the mindset that they have to take care of business each match they play.

"We have to be able to adapt to different situations we will come across during the game and make any adjustments needed whether it be on or off the court," Martinez said.

Martinez said the team needs the right mindset to come away with one of the two regional titles this weekend.

"It is extremely important for everyone to have the same mindset in order to be successful," she said. "In order to be successful, we have to hold one another accountable for our actions and stay humble throughout our successes."

The Cougars are not playing that bad right now as they have won 12 straight and have only lost four sets during that winning streak, including dropping a set to McCook on the road, Trinidad State at home in the team's final contest, and then capturing a thrilling five-set win over Northeastern Junior College on the road.

"We're playing very well and we have very good chemistry together," Oliveira said. "It is very important (for us to stay focused) so that we can all be a part of such a memorable experience for all of us Cougars."

The two winners of the Region IX tournament brackets will qualify for the NJCAA national tournament Nov. 17-19 in West Plains, Missouri.

LEYTON DOWNS POTTER-DIX FOR SUBDISTRICT TITLE

Lady Warriors Fall Against Overton In District Final

Leyton's Lady Warrior Volleyball team went through a few rough stretches this season, including a four match losing streak in the middle of September, but the team had great talent and just needed to gel together to get on the winning track. The well-coached team played their best when it mattered most, in the MAC Tournament and Subdistricts.

After beating favored Potter-Dix in the MAC Tournament in their runner-up performance in mid-October, the Lady Warriors were positioned to again upset the rival Lady Coyotes in the Subdistrict tournament.

After defeating Creek Valley in the semi-final round on October 24, the Lady Warriors matched up in the Championship Game with the Lady Coyotes. Potter-Dix had an outstanding season, winning their first 12 matches and building a 23-and-8 record. The Lady Coyotes had beaten the Lady Warriors early in the season, but knew they were a dangerous team after their loss to Leyton in the MAC tournament.

The finals matchup in Potter on October 25 had Leyton starting the first set building a lead until Potter-Dix fought back hard, and narrowed the lead to one point at 14-to-15. Both teams played well, with blocks by Leyton junior Claire Watchorn and Potter-Dix senior Jayden Shoemaker in the middle of the set. The teams were tied at 18-to-18, then Leyton surged to open a 22-to-19 lead. Leyton played very well, fielding hits off of the ceiling, diving and making pancake saves and another timely block by Claire Watchorn. Leyton pulled away for a 25-to-20 first set win.

The second set started out close again, but then Potter-Dix started making too many errors and allowed Leyton to take a lead. But then Leyton started to make errors themselves and Potter-Dix roared back. After an ace serve narrowed the Leyton lead to one, Head Coach Natasha Haupt called a time out and got her Lady Warriors settled. Leyton was then able to pull away at the end of the set, but Potter-Dix hung on and forced extra points. After a few hard fought points, Leyton finally took the second set 27-to-25.

The third set again started tight, but at 14-to-14, Potter-Dix again started making errors, and the Leyton squad capitalized to open a 20-to-17 lead. Potter-Dix tried to re-focus, but were called for two out of rotation violations late, and Leyton pulled away for the 25-to-19 third set win and 3-to-0 match victory.

Leyton had to travel for the D2-2 District Final, out to Sutherland to face off with the 27-and-4 Overton Lady Eagles. The Lady Warriors were outmatched in this contest, falling in straight sets 25-to-14, 25-to-10 and 25-to-16. Junior Trinity Beutler led the offense with six kills, while juniors Sydney Fortune and Kaitlyn Craig had five and two kills respectively. Leyton ends their season with a Subdistrict Title and a 20-and-13 record.

Coyotes Blast Eagles, 109-41

Record Setting Offensive Performance Seals Win

Mike Motz/Sidney Sun-Telegraph

Potter-Dix freshman Dylan Tabor takes the opening kickoff all the way back for a touchdown during the Coyotes' 109-41 win over Brady. Tabor also had a kickoff return in the fourth quarter that set the D6 scoring record for Potter-Dix.

by Mike Motz, Sidney Sun-Telegraph

Potter-Dix's Coyote Football team continued their undefeated season with a first round playoff win against the Brady Eagles in Potter on Friday 109-to-41, the most points scored by a D6 team in NSAA 6-Man Football history. It was the Brady Eagles' first year as a six-man team, and they were part of a record-setting performance they'd most likely want to forget.

The game started with Potter-Dix receiving the ball and freshman Dylan Tabor returning the kick off all the way for a touchdown. After a missed extra point attempt, the Coyotes led 6-to-0. After Brady received the ball, on their first play from scrimmage junior quarterback Riley Shirk threw a long pass to senior Dillon Miller, who then broke free and took the ball all the way for a touchdown. A successful extra point kick gave Brady the lead at 6-to-8. But it didn't last long as after the Coyotes recovered an onside kick in good field position, senior Luke Kasten took the pitch and tore up the sideline for a 60 yard touchdown run, and the Coyotes were ahead for good at 12-to-8.

The Potter-Dix defense then stepped up, forcing a four-and-out, then the offense took the field and on their first play junior quarterback Brayden Kasten threw a strike to senior Alex Anton who found the end zone, giving the Coyotes a 19-to-8 lead. Brady was still alive when Miller recovered a squibb kick and took it down the sideline for a touchdown, narrowing the Potter-Dix lead to 19-to-16.

That's as close as Brady would get for the remainder of the game, which had Potter-Dix scoring on nearly every possession, and their defense battling hard to keep Brady from coming back. At the end of the first period, Potter-Dix led 47-to-16, and then expanded their lead to 86-to-28 at the halftime break. Freshman Dylan Tabor's 75 yard kickoff return for a touchdown in the fourth quarter was the score that set the record, which was previously held by Arthur County with a 101 point game to start the season last year.

Potter-Dix scored three more times in the second half, but with the huge scoring outburst, that was all that was necessary for the Coyotes to set a new scoring record. The Potter-Dix defense was tough in this game, holding Brady to just 36 total yards on the ground while forcing eight turnovers. A final score of 109-to-41 ended the game and set the Number 3 seeded Coyotes for their next playoff game, a home contest against the Number 6 seeded 7-and-2 Pawnee City on Friday at 2 p.m.

Senior Luke Kasten again impressed, with 214 yards rushing on nine carries and four touchdowns. Junior quarterback Brayden Kasten completed 10 of 13 passes for 127 yards and connected for four touchdowns. Senior Alex Anton caught two touchdown passes, while junior Caden McConnell and senior Zach Rotert each reeled in a touchdown grab.

home court advantage for the Subdistrict Tournament last week, forcing their rivals to come down south for a chance to earn a District Final game. As the number one seed, Sidney matched up with number four seed Alliance, a team they had beaten previously in the season, 3-to-1. Sidney started the match slowly, a bad habit they have worked to correct all season, and the Lady Bulldogs were able to get up early and take a 1-to-0 lead by winning the first set, 25-to-19, just like they had done in their first meeting. But the Lady Raiders responded well and settled in, taking the next three sets 25-to-23, 25-to-18 and 25-to-23 to take the 3-to-1 victory and end the Lady Bulldog's season while advancing to the championship game against Scottsbluff, who had defeated Gering to earn their spot.

On Wednesday, October 26, Sidney matched up against Scottsbluff for the B-8 Subdistrict title, an opponent they had defeated twice before earlier in the season. The first set was tight between the teams, with both sides capitalizing on errors and playing better as the first set developed. But the Lady Raiders were able to pull ahead late in the set with a 20-to-17 lead, and kept up the pressure to take the first set by a score of 25-to-20. Scottsbluff started the second set by getting the first point, but then Sidney came back and after two service aces by senior Karsyn Leeling, the Lady Raiders held a 4-to-2 advantage. The teams battled until Sidney went on a run and built a 13-to-6 lead. The Lady Raiders did a great job smacking powerful kills and setting up blocks, and used the whole court and deceptive drop shots to get the Lady Bearcats completely off-balance. Sidney kept up the pressure and played error-free volleyball and came away with a 25-to-10 second set win. Sidney then started the third set hot, and built a 12-to-3 lead, then poured it on. The Scottsbluff girls looked deflated while the Sidney squad covered the court, and senior Reese Riddle piled up assist after assist setting up the Sidney power hitters for kills. A huge roar came from the crowd when junior Payton Schrotberger dove into the bleachers for a save that ended up as a Sidney point. The Lady Raiders went on to take the third set 25-to-16, sweeping away the Lady Bearcats and earning a home District Final match.

On Saturday, the Omaha-Duchesne Lady Cardinals made the long trip west for the 11 a.m. match time. The Lady Cardinals were 13-and-20 going into the match, but had a solid group of players that had length and could hit. The Sidney Red Zone was packed and the game's them was "Prison Break", with the students decked out in orange, some wearing chains and most sporting temporary face and neck tattoos.With a rocking crowd behind them, the Lady Raiders went to work, and battled hard with the Lady Cardinals. Neither team could gain an advantage, with a three point lead being the biggest either team would have during the set. At 22-to-23, Sidney rallied to tie the set then go ahead 25-to-24 when Leeling dove on her knees and punched the ball backwards over the net and down to an uncovered spot for the point. Sidney then took the first set 26-to-24.

In the second set the Lady Raiders fell behind early, but after Head Coach Julie Smith called a time out at 2-to-9, the Sidney girls rallied and stormed back to tie the set at 12-to-12 on the strength of senior Rheagan Stanley's strong service run. With timely blocks and smart play, the Lady Raiders kept the Lady Cardinals off balance and out of system with a combination of hard hits, soft drop shots and just plain hustle. The teams battled back and forth through the rest of the set until sophomore Kayla Westby put up a block to end the set 28-to-26 for Sidney. The third set started with Sidney building a big lead, placing the ball all over the Omaha-Duchesne side of the court and keeping the pressure on. With the crowd roaring behind them, the Lady Raiders cruised through the second half of the set and put the Lady Cardinals away 25-to-15 for a three set sweep.

After the match, Head Coach Julie Smith said, "I'm so proud of these girls, they just kept fighting and stayed focused, what a great win." She also commented about the rally in the second set, saying, "I just told them not to look at the score and stay focused and play hard. And they went back out and were outstanding."

Sidney travelled on Tuesday for their first round matchup Wednesday against the 28-and-7 Norris Lady Titans. They come out of Firth, a small town south of Lincoln, and have a group of 6'0" players and a 6'5" hitter. The Lady Raiders will be challenged to get by this team, but fortunately they've been playing their best volleyball at the right time of the season, and hope to go deep in the tournament.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Payton Schrotberger, junior Sidney High School

Schrotberger was a force on the court during the Lady Raiders wins over Scottsbluff and Omaha-Duchesne, playing great defense, hitting timely kills, and making diving saves to keep rallies alive for Sidney. She had 5 kills, 10 digs and an ace serve in the District Final.

Cow-Calf Cost of Production Workshops to be held November 29-30 in Kimball

University of Nebraska–Lincoln

The Cow-Calf Cost of Production Workshops will provide a hands-on learning experience for producers to learn how to calculate a unit cost of production for a cow-calf operation. The two-day workshops will be held on November 29-30 at the 4-H Building in Kimball from 8:30am – 4 pm and December 6-7 in Arthur at the Fairgrounds from 8:30 a.m. - 4 pm.

Natalie Jones / IANR Communications

Having information to make effective business decisions is important for ranch success. Enterprise analysis and unit cost of production (UCOP) are tools that can help ranchers identify where value is being created on the ranch, where costs are occurring, and what changes could be made to improve profit.

For cow-calf producers, UCOP is figured as cost per pound of weaned calf. Knowing what it costs to develop a bred heifer, harvest a ton of hay or put a pound of gain on a stocker, or a yearling are valuable information for the ranch business manager.

It takes time to set up and calculate a UCOP, but the benefits are:

- Knowing what present costs are.
- Projecting what unit cost of production will be in 2023.
- Identifying opportunities to improve profitability.
- Using information to make management and marketing decisions.

Participants in the workshops will work through a sample ranch to determine the profitability of four common ranch enterprises: cow-calf, stockers/breeding heifers, hay, and land. Participants will go through the steps of analyzing costs and calculating what it costs to produce a unit of product for each enterprise. Participants will also learn how to identify how changes could improve ranch profitability.

Sound difficult? Hands-on, group activities, and examples of how to calculate key numbers will help participants through the process. Participants will receive access to Excel® spreadsheet templates that can help them analyze cost of production for their own operation. Follow-up consultation is available after the workshops.

The workshops are limited to 30 people, please pre-register one week before the program to ensure space is available and to be included in the meal count.

Dry Bean Harvest in the Nebraska Panhandle

Gary Stone, Nebraska Extension Water & Integrated Cropping Systems Educator

Dry bean harvest in the Nebraska Panhandle and eastern Wyoming is taking longer than usual this season due to extended planting this spring by growers. Warm temperatures combined with more windy days this summer contributed to less pods setting on the plants resulting in lower-than-average yields. Hail was a factor for growers but was not widespread.

The Pathfinder Canal breach during the irrigation season was also a factor for growers on the north side of the North Platte River, see Pathfinder Canal Break on July 1, 2022 | CropWatch | University of Nebraska–Lincoln (unl.edu). Dry bean harvest this season should be completed within the next several weeks.

Overall yields this growing season is around 39 bushels per acre, slightly down from previous years. There were approximately 107,000 acres of dry beans harvested in Nebraska this season.

Nebraska is number one in the nation in Great Northern dry bean production and number two in Pinto and Light Red Kidney dry bean production. Dry edible beans are a major source of protein, vitamins, and minerals, and realize a $158.4 the start of million impact to the state's economy.

John Thomas, Nebraska Extension Educator, will present results on the 2022 dry bean on-farm research conducted in the Panhandle on February 15, 2023, at the Knight Museum, Alliance, NE.

More information on dry edible beans can be found at the Nebraska Dry Bean Commission.

Nebraska Extension educational programs abide with the nondiscrimination policies of the University of Nebraska–Lincoln and the United States Department of Agriculture.

USDA Launches Loan Assistance Tool to Enhance Equity and Customer Service

Washington - The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) launched a new online tool to help farmers and ranchers better navigate the farm loan application process. This uniform application process will help to ensure all farm loan applicants receive equal support and have a consistent customer experience with USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) regardless of their individual circumstances.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Whitten Building

"USDA recognizes more must be done to ensure all customers have equal access to our programs and services," said FSA Administrator Zach Ducheneaux. "The Loan Assistance Tool is another example of USDA taking accountability and ensuring we update our existing systems, processes, and policies to make them equitable for all customers. The tool will help loan applicants better understand the application process and gather the needed documents before the process even begins."

USDA experiences a high rate of incomplete or withdrawn applications, particularly among underserved customers, due in part to a challenging and lengthy paper-based application process. The Loan Assistance Tool is available 24/7 and gives customers an online step-by-step guide that supplements the support they receive when working in person with a USDA employee, providing materials that may help an applicant prepare their loan application in one tool.

Farmers can access the Loan Assistance Tool by visiting farmers.gov/farm-loan-assistance-tool and clicking the 'Get Started' button. From here they can follow the prompts to complete the Eligibility Self-Assessment and start the farm loan journey. The tool is built to run on any modern browser like Chrome, Edge, Firefox, or the Safari browser, and is fully functional on mobile devices. It does not work in Internet Explorer.

The Loan Assistance Tool is the first of multiple farm loan process improvements that will be available to USDA customers on farmers.gov in the future.

Other improvements and tools that are anticipated to launch in 2023 include:

- A streamlined and simplified direct loan application, reduced from 29 pages to 13 pages.
- An interactive online direct loan application that gives customers a paperless and electronic signature option, along with the ability to attach supporting documents such as tax returns.
- An online direct loan repayment feature that relieves borrowers from the necessity of calling, mailing, or visiting a local Service Center to pay a loan installment.

USDA provides access to credit to approximately 115,000 producers who cannot obtain sufficient commercial credit through direct and guaranteed farm loans. To learn more about FSA farm loan programs, visit farmers.gov/loans.

The team bested 60 students from Iowa State University, Kansas State University, South Dakota State University, University of Minnesota-Twin Cities, University of Missouri, University of Nebraska–Lincoln and University of Nebraska at Omaha. in addition, six UNL students place in the top ten in the individual contests. For three days, teams practiced at soil pits at various locations to learn about the soils and landscapes of the area. Competition day consisted of an individual portion in the morning and team/group portion in the afternoon. Students had to correctly identify, evaluate, classify and describe soil profiles in previously unseen soil pits and then rate the area for land use.

Why Thanksgiving?

This article isn't about the Holiday, though that is important. I am writing today about the act of giving thanks: Grateful acknowledgement to GOD for all he does for us.

• We should give thanks with a grateful heart, as it talks about in Psalms 107:1-3.

• We should give thanks when Praying, Philippians 4: 4-7, so you might have GOD'S Perfect peace.

• We are to give thanks in ALL circumstances 1 Thessalonians 5:18. You mean in all? Yes, because even in difficult circumstances, you get to see GOD'S hand at work taking care of you in those problems. Jesus gave thanks for the fish and the bread, and GOD multiplied it to feed 5000 men plus their families.

Jesus gave thanks for the Bread and the Wine, even though he knew that after the Passover (Last Supper) he would be betrayed, arrested, beaten, and crucified, Jesus Thanked God the Father for what he had provided and for the opportunity to be with his followers, and to serve mankind.

We should thank GOD for Jesus, John 3:16 & Romans 10: 9-10, for without Jesus there is no forgiveness of sin and we would be lost FOREVER.

We should thank GOD that Jesus ascended and that he sent "The Comforter" the HOLY SPIRIT, to help Guide us through our daily lives.

We have so much to be Thankful for, so why don't you and I start today by giving Thanks with a Grateful heart, and singing our Praises of Thanksgiving to GOD.

Respectfully Submitted,
Peter D. Morgan, Pastor

Avoid becoming 'burden' on grown children

Here's an interesting statistic: Some 72% of retirees say one of their biggest fears is becoming a burden on their families, according to a 2021 survey by Age Wave and Edward Jones. Both before and during retirement, what steps can you take to avoid burdening your loved ones in the future?

Here are a few suggestions:

• Build your retirement savings. The greater your financial resources, the less likely it becomes that you'd ever have to count on your grown children for financial support. You may have access to a 401(k) or similar retirement plan at work, so take advantage of it. Even with an employer-sponsored plan, you also may be eligible to contribute to an IRA. In addition to offering a variety of investment options, a 401(k) and IRA provide potential tax advantages. And once you do retire, be careful about how much you withdraw each year from your retirement plans and other investments.

• Plan for health care costs. Once you are retired, health care costs will be a significant expense. You may have Medicare, but you'll also want to consider your need for supplemental health insurance to cover traditional medical costs. And you'll want to consider another potential health-related expense: long-term care. You may never need the services of a home health aide or a stay in a nursing home, but no one can predict the future.

Medicare does not cover most costs for long-term care, which can be quite high. In 2021, the annual national median cost for a private room in a nursing home was over $108,000, while the median cost for a full-time home health aide was nearly $62,000, according to a survey by Genworth, an insurance company. You may want to consult with a financial professional on strategies for protecting yourself from these costs.

• Create necessary legal documents. If something were to happen to you, and you didn't have the appropriate legal documents in place, your loved ones could be placed in a bind, both financially and emotionally. That's why it's a good idea to create documents such as a durable financial power of attorney, which lets you name someone to manage your finances if you became incapacitated, and a durable power of attorney for health care, which allows someone to make medical decisions on your behalf if you can't make them yourself. You'll want to work with a legal professional to develop the documents appropriate for your needs.

• Evaluate your housing needs.

As you enter retirement, you may want to evaluate your living situation. Could you downsize to a smaller home, or perhaps a condominium or apartment? Not only might you save money with such a move, but you could also end up relieving your grown children of the responsibilities and hassles involved in clearing out and selling your home should you become unable to do so yourself during the later years of your retirement.

By taking these measures, along with others, you can go a long way toward maintaining your independence and putting yourself in a place where you won't burden your grown children. And that's a good place to be.

Straight Talk With Steve: Diesel Supply

Steve Erdman
47th District

America's diesel supplies are running dangerously low. As of October 14, the United States had only 25.4 days left of its diesel supply, according to the Energy Information Administration (EIA). Then, on October 21 stockpiles of diesel reached their lowest point ever for this time of year, at least ever since the EIA began tracking this kind of data back in 1982.

Western Nebraska runs on diesel. The trains that cross our state all have diesel engines, the trucks that haul our goods on I-80 all have diesel engines, military vehicles run on diesel, and much of our farm equipment runs on diesel. Diesel is preferable to gasoline because its density means that it puts out more energy per unit than gasoline.

Prices for a gallon of diesel have already begun to skyrocket. Texas has the lowest average price per gallon in the nation at $4.76. The average price per gallon in Nebraska is $5.14, but in California it is $6.39. On average, diesel fuel is $2.00 more per gallon than it was a year ago, but if this trend continues the price will go much higher.

The diesel crisis has put the United States in a vulnerable position. Earlier this month OPEC decided to cut oil production by 2 million barrels per day beginning in November despite pressure from the Biden Administration to do otherwise. OPEC's decision prompted the Biden Administration to announce their intention to release another 15 million barrels of oil from the U.S. Strategic Petroleum Reserve in order to alleviate the current crisis. But the Biden Administration had already released 180 million barrels. So, releasing another 15 million barrels of oil from our Strategic Oil Reserves will only further weaken us as a nation. This action will put our Strategic Oil Reserves at a 40-year low and put our country in a very vulnerable position against our enemies.

The future does not look good. President Biden has indicated that he has no intention of replacing the oil in our strategic reserves until the price falls to $70 per barrel. At the close of last week, Brent crude oil was selling at around $96 per barrel. Don't expect the diesel crisis to be solved anytime soon either. Futures prices for ultra-low sulfur diesel (ULSD) delivered in New York Harbor for the month of December are already trading at 61 percent higher than a year ago.

The American people will suffer from the diesel crisis, not the oil companies. Shell Oil, for example, announced last Thursday that its third quarter profit nearly broke the company's record at $9.45 billion. Shell boosted its dividend to shareholders by 15 percent and announced plans to buy back another $4 billion worth of company stock over the next three months.

The diesel crisis means that Americans will continue to see higher prices at the store. The federal government's preferred way of measuring inflation is through the Personal Consumption Expenditures price index, which climbed 6.2 percent in September. Even if you strip out food and fuel, which can be volatile, prices still climbed by 5.1 percent over the past year. Because the Fed's target for inflation is set at 2 percent, we are now running 4.2 percent higher than where we need to be. When added into the equation, the diesel crisis becomes a ticking time bomb for out-of-control inflation down the road.

This economy could soon be worse than the 1970s. If there is a difference between the oil embargo of the 1970s and the current diesel crisis in America, it is that we were busy stocking our Strategic Petroleum Reserve in the 1970s. The Strategic Petroleum Reserve was created in 1975 in order to protect the United States against another oil embargo, but now that our supplies are dwindling, OPEC is cutting oil production, and the Biden Administration is not replenishing our oil supply, our situation could soon be worse than it was in the late 1970s and early 1980s. Elections have consequences.

Week 43

"For we are His workmanship, created in Messiah Jesus for good works which God prepared beforehand that we should walk in them." Ephesians 2:10 God designed us to do good. Acts 10:38: Jesus went about doing good, for God was with Him. God is with us, also, in Christ Jesus. We are compelled to action by the good within us. Proverbs 21:15 "It is a joy for the just to do justice."

We live in the most perilous times since Noah, today. Even Noah did not know when the rains came, for God had sealed the ark behind him after the family entered. For 150 years, Noah warned people about rain and a flood. Having never seen rain, they couldn't wrap their minds around such unheard of information. Noah had to be the crazy one. Even the unicorn missed the boat. Looking up as it sailed past, he wondered, "Oh! Was that today?"

It is time, Beloved Friends and Patriots, to 'catch the boat' and vote. Who will stop critical race theories from entering our children's minds but us? Who will assert that God created one man and one woman to marry, if we don't say so? Who will realize that red, black, brown, yellow and white are all descendants of Adam's race, if we don't? Who will limit overreaches of government if we stay in our comfort zone? Who will defend our homes if we don't watch, pray and vote?

NO ONE. God gives us voices and choices. He gave us dominion and seed. Voting is a seed of righteousness planted with care and purpose. Many elections are finally decided by one vote. Why not BE that voter? The future is in our hands. God will ask, one day, "I created you to take dominion. Did you voice your choice by voting? Did you plant faith seeds by getting involved?" Why not answer in the affirmative at the ballot box, come Tuesday, November 8th?

Vote to expose fraud found in past elections. Vote to create a touchstone for future elections, proving them honest and just. November 8th BE THE ONE who makes a difference community, county, state and nation-wide. Vote for Judges, Initiatives, Governors, Representatives, Senators, Attorneys General, Secretaries of State, Treasurers, Sheriffs and local officers to bring order and peace to your city,

A study of Party Platforms alerts you to what your candidate must answer to. Pray for wisdom! Access information at Ivoterguide.com or millionvoices.org. God's Platform, the Bible, is, always, best. We have no God to go to but Jehovah, and Jesus has no one to work through but His people. "A ruler who lacks understanding is a great oppressor. The righteous are bold as a lion. By a man of understanding and knowledge, right will be prolonged.

Whoever walks (votes) wisely will be delivered." Proverbs 28:16

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Need for Change

We all know Sidney continues to decline. You can see it everywhere. People are trying, but you will not win without change. Change is hard, and change is scary, but, if we don't, Sidney will become a ghost town. Here is why.

We bought a building in Sidney in 2017 with the hopes of fixing it up and making it part of this community again. We put it on a 5-year plan. Since the building has no heat or air, we would come to Sidney in the Spring and Fall. We lived in Pennsylvania but hoped to retire here where our grandchildren are.

We started with fixing a broken window. 3 days later we got a notice in the mail that our taxes will go up if we do any repairs for more than $2,500. We stopped. After a couple years of COVID lockdowns, we came back and built a $52,000 carport to protect our cars from hail while we were here. That started a cascade of taxes upon us that we have never in our life experienced in any other state where we have businesses.

Our tax assessor valued our carport at $76,000 even though it cost $52,000 to build. The assessor raised the value of the building to from the $100,000 we bought it for to more than $382,000. Our County Commissioners agreed. Unbelievable. We have built businesses from California to Pennsylvania and never experienced anything like this. The taxes made it impossible to do anything with the building. We are not alone. This is happening to others here in Sidney.

Our taxes have been raised from $2,041 per year to just over $9,000, now, and we have done nothing to the building except build a carport and replace a pane of glass. If we fix the building as suggested by our contractor it would cost us about $500,000 in repairs to the building, but would also take our taxes to about $23,000 a year. Impossible to do. Can any business in Sidney afford $23,000 a year in just taxes?

This is why Sidney is destined to perish. We have an outrageous tax system that punishes anyone for fixing their property. We pay 500% more in taxes in Sidney than we do with our business in Pennsylvania. It is impossible to move our business here. Every time we try to do anything on our building our taxes are raised again by our assessor and approved by the county commissioners.

Sidney needs new ideas. Sidney needs to move into the modern age. We need new leaders with vision. What is our county plan? We don't have one. We are existing each day without a plan for the future, we are slowly dying. The elected officials here seem to be slowly raising taxes until they can replace the income that was lost when Cabela's left. That is destroying all of us, and as you can see it is destroying the town as well.

The people here are amazing. You come together to build a new playground with no assistance from the local government. It is amazing. The people can do anything. We have been suffering through a recession, COVID, inflation and so much more, then we get our taxes raised yet again by our County Commissioners. Why? They didn't need to. They wanted a savings account. They took money from our savings and put it in the county's. Not very fair to the people. This has to change.

In a few days, we have an election. with 2 candidates stepping forward with new plans, ideas, and a vision for the future. Jordan Hajek is running for Assessor. She promises fair assessments. It is needed. James Popovich is running as a last-minute write-in candidate for District 3 Commissioner. He has a plan to lower taxes rates, and increase community involvement. Make the county more transparent. A huge leap forward for us.

Change is hard. Change is scary. We need change if we want this community to be here for our children and grandchildren. Modern ideas. Since 1967 counties in Nebraska have set tax rates. Yes, local governments and county governments set property tax rates. Cheyenne County is the 6th highest in Nebraska. Out of the 93 counties in Nebraska, we are the 6th highest. We will not get new investments and businesses with those numbers. Time for new leaders with new ideas. Time for change.

David Jansen, Sidney, NE

In Support of Matt Williams

As the current and a former Chairman of the University of Nebraska's Board of Regents, we have dedicated years to strengthening our university system into one of the best in the nation. We've seen firsthand the challenges that Regents face, and we know how important it is to have the right people working for future generations of Nebraskans.

Nebraskans need to familiarize themselves with the role the Board of Regents has in the shaping of our state. This position is far too important to let deceptive, manipulative advertising sway voters from the best choice in candidates.

We also want to express our deep disappointment at the dark money and negative ads flooding into what should be an open and honest conversation about the direction of our university system. Nebraskans don't respond well to negative ads, instead they want a candidate with a clear vision for our University system. The sort of vision laid out by State Senator Matt Williams.

We have both met Matt and feel he is the right choice to help lead our university system in the right direction. This isn't an easy job; it takes the right combination of experience, leadership, and decision-making experience. Matt's record speaks for itself and proves he has not only the temperament, but the skills and knowledge to be a true servant for all Nebraskans. Matt Williams is the best choice for Regent, and we wholeheartedly endorse his candidacy.

Former Chair, Board of Regents

Support for Tegtmeier

Dear Voters,
The election deadline is coming fast — Nov. 8.
Please support and vote for Elizabeth Tegtmeier. She is very common sense person who is motivated for doing what is right for Nebraska school age children. She will guide the Nebraska State Board of Education to make common sense out of the turmoil that the current Board has put us in. It is time for a change and Elizabeth is the change that we need.
Also, Kathy Wilmot needs your vote to serve us on the Board of Regents. She will work to use taxpayer dollars responsibly and she will help guide the Board of Regents to make good choices for the future of all Nebraskans.

Sincerely,

Terry L. Jessen
Oshkosh, NE

Vote Tegtmeier for State Board of Education

Voters now have the opportunity to elect a representative who will stand for the education of children, not the indoctrination of children. Elizabeth Tegtmeier is a certified teacher, a mother of five children, and an educator who has the ability, the desire and the strength to change the direction of our State Board of Education. Seldom do we ever get the chance to elect someone to the State Board of Education who can restore academic excellence to our K-12 educational system. Elizabeth Tegtmeier will bring common sense back to our schools! Your vote for Elizabeth Tegtmeier on November 8 is a vote to educate children!

Thank you.

Sen. Steve Erdman,
Legislative District 47

State Arts Council Visits Sidney

by Forrest Hershberger, special to the Sidney Sun-Telegraph

On Wednesday, Oct. 26, a group of people could be seen walking through downtown Sidney. The tour included a representative of the Nebraska Arts Council.

Rachel Morgan, Program Specialist for the Nebraska Arts Council, visited Sidney in relation to the City's grant application for Creative District designation.

According to the Nebraska Arts Council (NAC), the Creative District Development Grant is designed for projects that focus on significant cultural tourism projects. Grants can be used for building, renovation, and/or expansion of existing buildings. As the name implies, the project includes defining an area, a district, for creative projects. Creativity is not limited to paintings and photographs. The definition of creativity can be visual art, music, the written word, uses of technology, etc. Morgan said the NAC relies on the traditional definition of creativity as relating to or involving the imagination or original ideas. which means a creative business can be anything from a book store to a landscaping service to a radio station.

The Oct. 26 tour included visits to various businesses from entertainment, fashion, and outdoor activities.

John Phillips, owner of Fox Theater, said he moved from Colorado in 1987.

"Things were in pretty rough shape," he said referring to the theater.

The facility was updated, and then the digital age arrived. Changing to digital was expensive, but offered more options, he said.

Phillips said COVID-19 and the related restrictions strained the theater, but also showed the community's character.

"The city's been home. I can't imagine being anywhere else," he said.

He said when the crowd restrictions were in place various organizations and people sponsored movies, helping keep the theater open.

Phillips was commended for supporting community events and movies not necessarily profit-driven.

"I'm excited about anything that's good for Sidney," Phillips replied.

Melissa Norgard, who was also on the tour, said a theater is the cornerstone of a community.

"We're lucky to have John and Kim (Phillips)," she said.

Next on the tour was Sam and Louie's Italian Restaurant and New York Pizzeria. The restaurant was purchased by Stan and Melissa Norgard. The Norgards purchased the restaurant shortly before COVID-19 was announced. Since opening, the facility has been updated to include a bar and a line of craft beers.

"It's very much a labor of love," Melissa Norgard said.

She also thanked the community for its support during the COVID restrictions.

"We would have never made it through COVID without the community," she said.

In her presentation, she said the building itself was built in 1929. Unique to Sidney's Sam and Louie's are the copper mugs available for specific drinks. Grains are purchased locally as much as possible. Service is also considered priority.

"We really try to offer the best customer service," she said.

Next on the tour was Charlotte & Emerson with Sarah Kaiser. Charlotte & Emerson is a clothing and accessory store focused on female shoppers, but also with a men's accessories. The store has been open about two years and a dress boutique upstairs has been added. Kaiser said the store's history started as a custom bag business and developed into the store. She said the name Charlotte & Emerson is in reference to a conversation with her sister of what each would name a daughter if they had girls.

Doug and Vicki Loghry at Pedalers Corner explained their history during the next stop on the tour. The Loghrys opened Pedalers Corner as a place to serve the bicycling community, and as a welcome spot for the community at large. In addition to the bicycles, repair service, parts and accessories, Pedalers Corner includes a courtyard available to the public.

They, too, have weathered the COVID restrictions.

"So far, we've been catching our breath with bikes, which is awesome," Vicki said.

Highby Outdoors was next on the tour. Matt Highby explained how the business moved to its present location in the spring of this year, and could use a bigger location already. Highby Outdoors is a gun and accessory shop, and is considering expanding its product line. In addition, The Coffee Corner is part of Highby Outdoors, offering coffee drinks, breakfast and snack foods, and light lunches.

Last on the stop was the Sidney Elks Lodge. Rob Kuhns, representing the Elks, talked about the history of the building, built in 1930 and later acquired by the City of Sidney. The building was held by the City until the Elks took possession of it in the 1970s. The building includes a massive basement, and theatre seating hidden above the false ceiling above the main floor. The theatre seating numbers 300 seats, with 18 seats missing, Kuhns said.

The building is famed for hosting personalities such as Lawrence Welk, Paul Harvey and Golden Gloves boxing.

The Elks and City of Sidney are working together to refurbish the building. He said the ultimate goal is to return it to original condition as much as possible.

Following the tour, Morgan and the committee met to review the grant application.

Central Elementary Students Experience Ag in the Classroom

by Laura Narjes, special to the Sun-Telegraph -

On Monday, October 24, 2022, the Kindergarten and Pre-K students at Central Elementary were able to learn about agriculture with a Pumpkin Lifecycle Lesson presented by Laura Narjes, with UNL Extension, Miss. Markus, the ag teacher for Sidney Public Schools and several students from the Sidney FFA Chapter.

Central Elementary students enjoyed hearing a story about pumpkins and how if you plant the seeds they will regrow! Next they created a timeline of a pumpkin beginning with the seed and learned how the vines grow and will get leaves and flowers on them before the pumpkins grow. This Ag in the Classroom lesson was sponsored by the Cheyenne County Farm Bureau.

The Sidney FFA Chapter can also use this lesson for the Connecting Chapters program with the Nebraska Farm Bureau. The Connecting Chapters program helps FFA students learn how to educate and advocate for agriculture, all while providing agricultural literacy for younger students.

Drop off sites to open for Operation Christmas Child November 14-21

Sidney — More than 4,500 locations will open to collect Operation Christmas Child shoebox gifts for the Samaritan's Purse project. Volunteers are preparing to collect shoebox gifts during National Collection Week, Nov. 14 - 21.

Operation Christmas Child has been collecting and delivering shoebox gifts—filled with school supplies, hygiene items and fun toys—to children worldwide since 1993. Anyone can pack a shoebox! In 2022, Operation Christmas Child hopes to collect enough shoeboxes to reach another 11 million children.

Individuals, families, and groups still have time to transform empty shoeboxes into fun gifts. The project partners with local churches across the globe to deliver these tangible expressions of God's love to children in need. Find a step-by-step guide on the How to Pack a Shoebox webpage.

"Now more than ever, children around the world need to know that God loves them and there is hope," said Franklin Graham, president of Samaritan's Purse. "A simple shoebox gift opens the door to share about the true hope that can only be found in Jesus Christ."

Participants can find the nearest drop-off location and hours of operation as they make plans to drop off their shoebox gifts. The online lookup tool is searchable by City or ZIP code. Signs at each location will identify the drop-off.

Operation Christmas Child, a project of Samaritan's Purse, seeks to demonstrate God's love in a tangible way to children in need around the world and, together with the local church worldwide, to share the Good News of Jesus Christ. Since 1993, Operation Christmas Child has collected and delivered more than 198 million gift-filled shoeboxes to children in more than 170 countries and territories. This year, Operation Christmas Child will collect its 200-millionth shoebox!

DHHS Received Federal Approval to Launch Second Round of Children in Child Care P-EBT Benefits

Lincoln – The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Food and Nutrition Services (FNS) has announced that Nebraska is approved to disburse Children in Child Care P-EBT benefits for the 2021-2022 school year with the first issuance taking place on October 26 for children under 6 receiving Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits.

P-EBT is a USDA program designed to provide cash benefits on an EBT card to purchase food. The purpose of this program is to provide benefits to children who lost access to food due to daycare closures or adjusted hours or attendance from August 2021 to December 2021.

Families receiving SNAP with children under the age of six are eligible for 2021-2022 Children in Child Care P-EBT benefits if the children received SNAP benefits in the month benefits are being issued. A child may not receive the 2021-2022 school year P-EBT and 2021-2022 Children in Child Care P-EBT for the same month. P-EBT benefits will be issued directly to their SNAP EBT card for children on SNAP under the age of 6.

Families with questions about P-EBT can contact DHHS.NebraskaPEBT@nebraska.gov. Please include the following information in the email: the parent's name, Master Case Number, address, email address, phone number, child's name, and child's date of birth.
