HELP WANTED
DREAM SPORTS JOB
The Buffalo Bulletin, a national award-winning weekly newspaper located in the foothills of the Bighorn Mountains, is seeking a leader to take over one of the best sports sections in the region while working in an area that inspired Ernest Hemingway with its incredible vistas, world-class hunting, fishing, hiking, biking and skiing opportunities. The Bulletin's sports section is known throughout the area as the place to go for complete, thorough coverage of local teams and athletes. The sports section primarily covers local prep sports in three communities that are passionate about their student-athletes. The section also ventures to the great outdoors and during the summer months, the rodeo arena. Our sports reporters have covered everything from the NFL to youth wrestling, so you never know where this job will take you. With your office location ranging from the scenic Bighorn Mountains to high school gyms, one thing is certain – this is no desk job. The ideal candidate for this position will have great news judgment, be self-motivated and have the drive to provide excellent sports and outdoor coverage. You will be able write compelling game stories, features and columns. Photography skills are a necessity. And the ability to work on deadline is a must. Experience with Adobe Creative Suite is a plus. We offer a competitive starting salary and generous benefits package including paid time off, a health insurance stipend, a health club membership for the whole family, and a 401(k) program. The Buffalo Bulletin belongs to a federation of community weekly and daily publications with 22 titles located in Colorado, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington, South Dakota, New Mexico, Michigan, and Nebraska. There is ample opportunity for advancement within our group of newspapers.

Compensation: Salary from $28,000 and up with generous benefit package including 3 weeks paid time off, holiday pay, retirement, and gym membership. Please send your resume, clippings and photo samples, along with the names and contact information of three previous supervisors to robb@buffalobulletin.com.
REPORTER IN BIGHORN MOUNTAIN
COUNTRY
DESCRIPTION:
Our offer to you.
1. Work and play in a mountain paradise. World class hiking, biking, skiing, fishing and hunting and a reasonable cost of living. 92nd percentile ranking in New York Times for all U.S. counties for quality and ease of life in the 5th happiest state.
2. Flourish and grow with a nationally recognized news team while being challenged to do your best work.
3. Freedom to write investigative, feature, enterprise and hard news with a flexible schedule and generous paid time off, benefits (including health club membership, health insurance stipend and retirement plan.)
4. Stability and commitment to excellence. News drives readership. Readership drives success. We are perennially one of the best newspapers in the country. 2014 and 2015 3rd place General Excellence, 3,000-6,000 circulation, National Newspaper Association. 2014 1st place Editorial Excellence, under 10,000 circulation, Inland Press Association. Family-owned for 60 years.
5. Opportunity to advance. As a member of a 9-state newspaper federation with over 25 daily and weekly titles there is ample opportunity to grow and advance. Our papers are located in Washington, Idaho, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Nebraska, South Dakota and Michigan.
What we need.
1. Commitment to excellence. Work hard. Play hard. Love your job. Tell great stories on deadline with great art.

2. Willingness to learn. Whether you have 3 years experience or 30, we all need to learn and grow, lest we become stagnant and irrelevant.
3. Willingness to lead and contribute. Anyone can tell others what to do. We expect everyone to walk the walk. Produce excellent, clean copy daily. Help each other. Life's too short to be selfish.
4. Experience. We would prefer 3-5 years of newspaper experience but are willing to train and mentor the right candidate.
5. Play well with others. We have a zero tolerance for drama, anger issues, or office politics.
How to get here.
1. Please send cover letter, resume, 3 excellent clips, salary requirements and list of previous supervisors with contact information to robb@buffalobulletin.com

Annie's Mailbox

Dear Annie: "Michael" and I have been dating for two years, and I'm pretty sure that he's the one. He's smart, funny and sensitive, and we agree on most things.
One thing that we do not agree on, however, is my 15-year-old Pomeranian, "Clover." Clover has had a number of surgeries lately and for the past eight months, has needed a catheter. Michael believes that I should put Clover down, because she is in a lot of pain and the veterinarian claims that things are not likely to get better.
I appreciate Michael's sympathy. I really do. I just wish that he would put himself in my shoes. I've had Clover since she was a puppy. I consider her to be one of my dearest friends. We have been through so much together that I cannot lose her if I don't have to. How do I explain to Michael that I want to hold onto my friend as long as possible? – Confused and Torn Dear Confused: We know you love Clover and want her around forever. But you are hurting her terribly. She is in constant pain. She is not going to get better. In fact, her pain may become unbearable. A true friend does not insist that her loving companion stay alive for her sake. We realize that you don't intend to be so cruel to Clover simply because you aren't ready to say goodbye. Please talk to the veterinarian. Ask whether there is someone who can help you make the decision that is best for Clover, and perhaps have Michael come with you so he, too, can be a source of support.

Dear Annie: This is for "Mike," who asked why women expect their retired husbands to take on household chores, but the women won't clean the gutters or mow the lawn.
I have been married for 50 years. For 45 of those, I worked a full-time job, raised two great kids, cooked, washed clothes and cleaned the house. During this time, my husband also worked full time, but did little around the house, so he had time for golf, fishing and getting together with the boys.
My husband retired five years ago and

I still work full time. I asked him to help with the housework, since he's home so much. Instead, he hired a cleaning person. I asked, "Would you mind doing some of the laundry?" So he washes his clothing but not mine, which is OK. He even cooks now and then. And for those gutter cleanings and fix-it projects? He hired a yard guy and a handyman. Life is good. – A Happy Wife
Dear Happy: We say, whatever works. If you can afford to hire the help you need, by all means, do so. It's better than feeling stressed, resentful and overworked. Your husband may not have been willing to take on these chores himself, but he was considerate enough to hire someone, so neither of you was stuck with all the work.
