County Supports Constitution Week

"We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

On Sept. 17, 1787, the delegates to the Constitutional Convention, signed the framework of their new country.

On Aug. 15, 2022, the Cheyenne County Commissioners signed a document declaring Sept. 17-23 as Constitution Week and Sept. 17 as Constitution Day. Constitution Day commemorates the formation and signing of the U.S. Constitution by 39 men on Sept. 17, 1787. The Constitutional Convention came to a close in the Assembly Room of Independence Hall in Philadelphia, Penn.

Seventy individuals were chosen to attend the meeting, according to constitutionfacts.com, with the initial intent of amending the Articles of Confederation. Fifty-five men attended most of the meetings with never more than 46 present at any one time, and only 39 actually signing the Constitution.

The commissioners also approved an agreement of Amended Inmate Telecommunications General Service Agreement regarding Fast Case Law Library Service. The agreement allows for a type of online "law library" for inmate use.

Cheyenne County Fair Board Treasurer Kip Miller also gave an update. Miller talked about the cost of events including the rodeo and demolition derby in comparison to revenue from ticket sales.

"It's a struggle, but we'll get there," he said.

He said the goal is to plan a year ahead.

"That's what I would like to see," he said.

The commissioners also held a public hearing, then approved, an application for a floodplain/floodway development permit for the Nebraska Department of Transportation for milling and

Commissioners Updated on Hospital Expansion Plan

Forrest Hershberger

Sidney Regional Medical Center is moving ahead with plans to consolidate and expand its facility.

Plans include moving Extended Care to a new wing on the west side of the existing hospital. The new facility will include a "Memory Care" wing among its four wings, and 63 beds. The Extended Care facility is currently located on Osage Street in Sidney, adjacent to the "old hospital."

SRMC administrator Jason Petik recently addressed the Cheyenne County Board of Commissioners on the project. He said the concept of moving Extended Care to a new facility adjacent to the hospital is in part due to the cost of maintaining the current building.

"We were looking at $8-$10 million just to put siding, windows" and carpet on the Extended Care building, Petik told the commissioners. The new facility will also have a more efficient floor plan, designed to "enhance efficiencies through a layout that improves the residents and families' experiences," according to a July press release.

The new building, on a 10-acre tract adjacent to the hospital, is projected to cost about $19 million.

In July, SRMC received confirmation that the USDA Rural Development approved financing of the project at 2.5 percent for 40 years. The USDA will be financing $12 million of the project $19 million project. The remaining funds will be from a combination of a capital campaign in conjunction with a cash investment from SRMC.

Petik said the current plan is for the present Extended Care site to be a "green field." SRMC has partnered with Hospice of the Plains in Sterling, Colo., to provide hospice services in Sidney. Hospice of the Plains will offer services throughout much of the Panhandle, from Pine Bluffs, Wyo., to Ogallala. Hospice of the Plains has a Sidney office in the former hospital, adjacent to Extended Care.

Petik also highlighted staff changes occurring at the hospital, including several surgeons and specialty doctors. He added the hospital is urgently seeking nursing staff as well.

"We could hire as many RN's as we can right now," he said.

He said the hospital is offering full-ride scholarships, scholarships to the Western Nebraska Community College nursing program, and sign-on bonuses. He said the facility needs five to 10 nurses immediately.

"Really, this shortage is in acute and long-term care," he said.

DEA Recognizes National Fentanyl Prevention and Awareness Day

OMAHA — On Sunday, Aug. 21, the Drug Enforcement Administration will recognize National Fentanyl Prevention and Awareness Day by joining the many voices dedicated to educating the public on the serious dangers of fentanyl poisoning from fake pills and other illicit drugs. DEA supports the efforts of several organizations — including the Alexander Neville Foundation, Blue Plaid Society, Facing Fentanyl, Voices for Awareness, V.O.I.D., and others — to amplify nationwide efforts to increase awareness of the highly addictive and dangerous drugs containing fentanyl that continue driving the opioid epidemic.

"Fentanyl is the single deadliest drug threat our nation has ever encountered," said DEA Administrator Anne Milgram. "From large cities to rural America, no community is safe from the presence of fentanyl. DEA is proud to work with families who have been affected by fentanyl poisonings to spread the word and to save lives."

Fentanyl is a synthetic opioid that is approximately 50 times more potent than heroin and 100 times more potent than morphine. It is inexpensive, widely available, highly addictive — and potentially lethal. Drug traffickers are increasingly mixing fentanyl with other illicit drugs—in powder and pill form—to drive addiction and create repeat customers. Many fentanyl poisoning victims are unaware that fentanyl is in the substance they are ingesting.

According to the CDC, an estimated 107,622 people in the United States died of drug overdoses and poisonings in 2021, with 67 percent of those

UNL, Plantnebraska Awards Matching Grant to Community Greenery

On the south side of Legion Park is a place of memories, of days gone by when swimming and teens strutting the status was the game of the day. It is also a place of gently placed floral arrangements that inspire emotions of relaxation and calm.

The paths between the flowers have a basic design of the continental United States, including boundaries between states with specific recognition of Nebraska.

The Living Memorial Gardens board was recently presented with a matching grant to expand the plant experience further within the city of Sidney.

The Plantnebraska program is offering a $500 matching grant to add color to other projects within Sidney. Living Memorial Gardens board president Coleen Langdon contacted Sarah Buckley, program director for Nebraska State Arboretum (NSA), August 18 via phone conference. Buckley defined what the NSA can provide for floral projects. She said the program does not deal with annual plants. NSA focuses on perennials and native plants. She said

Documentary on Teen Suicide to be Held at Fox Theatre in Sidney

An upcoming documentary offered in Sidney and Bridgeport spotlights the story of a teen cheerleader paralyzed after a suicide attempt.

My Ascension documentary screening event with a panelist discussion to follow will be offered at:

- Sidney Fox Theater, 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., September 8;
- Morrill County Community Hospital Training Center (901 Main Street, Bridgeport), Tuesday, 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. September 27;

A suicide attempt left 16-year-old varsity cheerleader Emma Benoit paralyzed but propelled her on a mission to use her painful experience to help others find hope and stay alive. My Ascension is a feature-length documentary that chronicles Benoit's inspiring journey and quest to walk again as she worked to bring Hope Squad, a school-based suicide prevention program, to Louisiana. The film also highlights the stories of two remarkable young people who tragically did not survive their attempts, and those watching learn firsthand from their families, friends, school officials, and suicide prevention experts about the devastating effect of suicide and what can be done to prevent it.

Every day 20 young people die by suicide in the United States. According to the National Institute on Mental Health's most current data from 2018, about 7,600 young people under 25 died by suicide.

"Emma's story captures the severity of the mental health and suicidality pandemic amongst the adolescent population in the United States. My Ascension is a serious yet uplifting story that provides hope, clarity, and support to its audience from a personal perspective," said Saro Altinoglu, PSY.D, ROWI Teen and Parent Wellness Center.

If your organization, school, or community group is interested in hosting a viewing of My Ascension, please reach out to Nicole Berosek @ 308-279-3496 to schedule.

James E. Haskell

James E. Haskell, 80 of Annandale, Virginia, passed away on July 21, 2022.

A funeral service will be held 10 a.m., Saturday, August, 27, at the Kowanda Church in Garden County.

He was born in Lodgepole, Nebraska in February 1942, to James and Gladys Haskell who farmed on a small dry-land wheat farm. Jim graduated from the University of Nebraska, Lincoln with a Master's degree in Agricultural Economics, and later he would earn his PhD in the same subject from Kansas State University. After graduation Jim would spend his entire career working for the USDA, helping farmers and Cooperatives across America and the world.

He was married to Patricia L. Miller of Oshkosh, Nebraska in October 1964. Jim and Pat would share their lives and many hobbies for 56 years. Together they enjoyed camping, hiking, traveling, restoring trunks, collecting flow blue China, reading books (especially James Mitchner), and keeping honey bees. The bees keeping would lead them to eventually the teaching of bee keeping to many folks around the Washington, D.C., Metro area and beyond.

Jim was an avid sports fan of Husker Football, Basketball and Baseball, but most of all you could find him every Sunday keeping track of the leader board for every PGA tournament.

Jim is survived by his daughters Heidi Loechler of Kansas City and Heather Ramsey of Omaha, six grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, his sister Lucile Stickley of Sidney, Nebraska, 13 nephews nieces, all who will remember him for his loyalty to family, his kindness, his love of farming and farmers, and his witty sense of humor. He lived his life and set the example that honesty, hard work and tenacity can play off for anyone, even small-town Nebraska wheat farmers.

We will miss you dearly, Daddy. In lieu of flowers, consider giving to the James Haskell Agricultural Scholarship through the University of Nebraska Foundation: 1010 Lincoln Mail, Lincoln, NE 68508.

Eileen E. Worth

Eileen was a devoted mother, sister, grandmother, great grandmother, and caring friend who left us on August 12, 2022, following a prolonged struggle with complicated health issues.

Eileen was a Nebraska girl through and through. She was the second of four children born to Hilbert (Hib) and Gertrude Borchert in Sidney, Nebraska on August 28, 1929. She attended school during her formative years at the county school at Bunker Hill before moving to Sidney and graduating from Sidney High School in the Class of 1946.

After graduation, Eileen married and raised four children while working primarily as a bookkeeper/office manager at several Sidney businesses. Following the closing of the Sioux Army Depot, Eileen moved her two youngest children to Herlong, CA where she worked as a bookkeeper for the U.S. Army. While living in CA, Eileen married Floyd "Sonny" Worth, Jr. of Dalton, NE.

Life in the "Golden" state was good as they enjoyed camping and boating outings at Eagle Lake with her sister and brother-in-law Shirley and Ed Raulinaitis. Numerous stories still circulate among family and friends of sometimes raucous "garage parties". Eileen always joked when asked about her secret to longevity of life by saying "The secret is a Coors Light a day".

The 70's brought Eileen and Sonny back to Nebraska and the Sidney/Dalton area. Eileen went to work at Cabela's Inc., as a bookkeeper/accountant for the next 18 years. Following retirement and the passing of her husband, she moved to Lincoln.

Eileen was preceded in death by her parents, sister Eleanor (Maurice) Gordon of Sidney, Shirley (Ed) Raulinaitis of Sparks, NV, brother Dale Borchert of Lincoln/Seward, NE, son Jack Bonesteel, of Brighton, CO, and grandson Kyle Bonesteel of Lincoln.

She is survived by her sons Jim (Diane) Bonesteel of Lincoln, NE, Gene Bonesteel of Elk Grove, CA, daughter Janet Bonesteel of Asheville, NC, several grandchildren, great grandchildren, nieces, and nephews.

LaDonna L. Jung

LaDonna L. Jung, age 87 of Sidney, NE passed away Tuesday, August 16, 2022 in Kimball, NE.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 A.M., Friday, August 26th in the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Sidney with Pastors Chad Rademacher and Phil Found Pastor Emeritus officiating. Burial will follow in the Greenwood Cemetery in Sidney.

Friends may stop at the Gehrig-Stitt Chapel on Thursday, August 25th from 1-6 P.M.

In lieu of flowers the family suggests memorial donations be made in LaDonna's name to High Plains Arts Council or Congregate Meals at the Cheyenne County Community Center.

Services will be streamed live on the funeral home's Facebook page and recorded for later viewing. Gehrig-Stitt Chapel & Cremation Service, LLC is in charge of LaDonna's care and funeral arrangements.

LaDonna Lois Jung, the daughter of Raymond H. and Esther Sophia (Borchert) Lessman was born on July 10, 1935 in Sidney. She graduated from Sidney High School with the Class of 1953. On June 29, 1956, LaDonna was united in marriage to Alferd E. Jung at Salem Lutheran Church in Gurley. Together they made many memories in Germany and Cheyenne County where they raised their family.

LaDonna was very active in her community and St. Paul's Lutheran Church. She loved taking trips with her sisters and family and watching her grandchildren in their sporting events. LaDonna was passionate about teaching. She taught in many regional schools as well as Sunday School.

She will be missed dearly by her husband of 66 years: Alferd of Sidney; her children: Tanja Frye and husband Casey of Ames, IA, Marlin Jung and wife Paula of Evergreen, CO, Trina Stitt and husband Gordy of Sidney and Tricia Berry and husband LeeVern of Chadron, NE; grandchildren: Janelle Smith, Jordy Childers and Casey Childers all of Evergreen, CO, Meagan Long and husband Kyle of Sidney, Terrin VanCura and husband Nate of Hastings, Trevor Berry and Broc Berry both of Chadron, Jennifer Vasquez and husband Sev of Castle Rock, CO, great-grandchildren: Kylie and Lukas Long of Sidney, Tahli Childers of Evergreen and Izzy, Addy and Emmy Vasquez of Castle Rock; sisters: Marcella Rapp of Lakewood, CO, Lajean Campion and husband Charlie of Loveland, CO, Janice Schilz and husband Darrel of Gering, NE and Deloris Steffens and husband Bob of Sidney and many extended family members and friends.

LaDonna was preceded in death by her parents; brother: Delbert Lessman and sister-in-law: Frances Lessman.

SRMC Planned Upgrades – The above graphic shows where the new Extended Care Facility will be located. Plans are for the new facility to be built on the west side of the Sidney Regional Medical Center hospital. Parking will be moved to the southwest and the north.

Week 33

“Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings You have ordained praise (strength),” Psalm 8. See also wisdom Proverbs 8.

Three to five year-old children are like little sponges, soaking up every bit of information around them. Sorting out proper responses may cause their psychology and intellectual information to collide in social situations. However, their emotions (coping devices) are rock solid.

A Sunday School teacher asked her class, “What is a lie?” Instantly a little boy replied in a confident tone, “It is an abomination to the Lord and a very present help in time of trouble.”

Discussing traffic lights, red and green were specific: red means stop, green means go. “What does the yellow light mean?” After a thoughtful pause, an answer came, “My Daddy says ‘accelerate.’”

After a 5 minute briefer on how to magnify the Lord,

Ivy Joy Johnson
The Joy Mission

“What should I do to see Jesus more clearly?” This answer was emphatic. “Eat your carrots!”

Young parents, driving to an appointment, stopped for a sandwich from the local eatery. As they proceeded, a voice came from the back seat, “Grilled cheese, in the Name of Jesus, you cool down NOW!”

A potty emergency interrupted a father-son outing. As they entered the road side rest area, the son exclaimed with disgust, “E-e-o-o! This smells like the curse of the Law!”

Super Bowl hype prompted a small, freckle faced, red head to enthusiastically announce to his class, “When I grow up I’m gonna be a big black quarterback!”

Birthday party etiquette as per my 4-year-old granddaughter: “Grandma,” she confided, “if you don’t blow out your candles, you won’t get any older.”

An instructor demonstrated basic ballet positions for a young, hopeful diva. She looked up at the instructor and asked, incredulously, “In this heat?!”.

After a particularly exasperating wrestle with the flat tire on his car, a father sat down with his face in his hands. Soon, he felt his son’s little arms reach around him and heard these comforting words, “Daddy, Jesus loves you and He is not willing that you perish.”

Matthew 18 is clearly instilled in this little sweetheart. “Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old, he will not depart from it.” Proverbs 22:6

Our little ones are so fresh from God! Their observations are filled with rare and profound truths. Listen to them. Cherish them. Hold them close before the world whisks them away. Instruct them in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, to guard their hearts, for out of it springs the issues of life. Proverbs 4:20

“Take heed that you do not despise one of these little ones, for I say, their angels always see the face of My Father Who is in Heaven.” Matthew 18:10

Straight Talk With Steve: CDC Reset

Recently, the U.S. Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) announced plans to overhaul the organization due to major public mistakes it made throughout the days of the COVID-19 pandemic.

This upheaval at the CDC comes as no surprise to me, because many of the truths I have shared with my readers about COVID-19 and the vaccinations over the course of the past three years were falsely rejected by the CDC even though the facts said otherwise.

The CDC has been proven wrong on so many different issues that listing them all will make a person’s head spin. For example, despite the outcry from many reputable epidemiologists who tried to educate the public, the CDC ignored the value of natural immunity and pushed for continued lockdowns, mask-wearing, and social distancing, even though the facts showed that these preventative measures did not work to stop the spreading of the virus. The CDC also ignored therapeutic treatments which were already known to work on the coronavirus such as hydroxychloroquine, budesonide inhalers, and

Steve Erdman
Neb. 47th District

Ivermectin.

In order to help you see the magnitude of the CDC’s mistakes, consider a new report published in the International Journal of Environmental Research and Public Health entitled, “Are Lockdowns Effective in Managing Pandemics?”

That report concluded with these words, “We estimate that lockdowns may claim 20 times more life years than they save.” In other words, lockdowns do a lot more harm than good. Academics aside, common sense should have convinced the leadership at the CDC that lockdowns were just a bad idea.

The real underlying problem with the CDC has been the complete politicization of the organization. The CDC has been controlled at the highest levels by those with extremist Left-wing worldviews. Rochelle Walensky, who is the director of the CDC, told Bloomberg News that the reset will move the CDC away from academic studies and towards prioritizing emerging emergencies.

What Walensky never admitted to the public was that the organization has been politicized, and until that admission is made publicly, I have little hope that any meaningful changes will ever be made at the CDC.

The CDC must correctly identify the problem. Jason Schwartz is a health policy researcher at the Yale School of Public Health. In response to the announcement of a reset at the CDC, he told the New York Post that “The federal failings go beyond the CDC, because the White House and other agencies were heavily involved.” In other words, the CDC has been politicized. If the first step of recovery is admitting that you have a problem, then the second step is correctly identifying what that problem is, and there is no indication yet that Rochelle Walensky is ready to admit that the CDC has been thoroughly politicized.

This is an important step for the CDC to take because a lot of very important information about COVID-19 and the vaccinations have been deliberately covered up and shielded from the public view. For example, in January a federal judge in Texas ordered the release of some 300,000 pages of documents from a Pfizer trial study which showed that 44 percent of pregnant women who received the Pfizer vaccination lost their babies. That’s important information for the public to know! For the CDC to have pushed the Pfizer vaccination on pregnant women when this information was available to them was both reckless and irresponsible and they should be held accountable for the lives that were lost.

The CDC has done great and irreparable harm to the American public. Thousands of good employees needlessly lost their jobs after receiving “Vax or Axe” letters from their employers. Thousands of military personnel have been vaccinated against their will or kicked out of the military for refusing to get vaccinated. Thousands of small businesses went belly-up due to the lockdowns that were imposed on society. Millions of churchgoers were told to stay home on Sunday mornings and priests were denied permission to administer last rights to their dying parishioners in our hospitals and nursing homes.

Today we deny entry into the U.S. to the best tennis player in the world because he refuses to get vaccinated, but we allow millions of potentially infected individuals to walk freely across our nation’s southern border. Most of all, untold numbers of Americans have needlessly died because they were denied access to the right kind of medicine which could have potentially saved their lives.

Lowering the Expectation, But At What Cost

Several years scolded by a I did a u-turn thought was didn’t see my O d d l y time later, I down the same a collision in intersection.

No, it wasn’t It was the other variety. It wasn’t was the risk of street.

Not long after that I heard a proposal for cyclists to have softer rules at an intersection... in Colorado. A motorized vehicle approaches a stop sign, the driver is expected to stop. A bicyclist approaches a stop sign, if the intersection is clear he can ride through like it’s a yield sign.

Similar changes for light-controlled intersections.

For cyclists, it sounds like another level of freedom, that point where bikers and cyclists share ideology. Enjoy the wind in your face and the freedom of the road.

Both have their advantages and disadvantages, but for the moment, they are at the same place.

Again, it sounds good, until you look at the proverbial other side of the street. What do you say to the driver and the cyclist who met by accident, (reference intended)? What do you say to the parent who visits his son or daughter in the cemetery for not following safety and the traffic code?

People have asked me about the concept, family and friends, and cycling friends. Its one of those discussions that doesn’t have a one-and-done answer. I can cite names of riders who have ridden thousands of miles without even a close-call with a motorized vehicle, and I can supply a longer list of children and adults who cycle as if the existing traffic code is little more than a suggestion, that they are living a bullet-proof blessed life and ignorantly or arrogantly stare death in the face like a challenge.

I can easily say the thought of reducing the expectation of cyclists is a bad idea. The rest of the answer is why. Many would look at me with this unstated question of “would you rather stop at an intersection?”

The answer is no, but I do want to come home at the end of each ride. My answer to this thought is, controlled intersection or not, I check the intersection before entering; never assume the awareness of the other driver.

The concept, many forget, including the lawmakers favoring this idea, is that most laws are written for people who don’t try to follow safety, and right and wrong.

Traffic codes are written for the same reason there are no smoking signs near gas pumps. From traffic laws on up, the idea of law and order addresses those who are too carefree and almost anarchistic in spirit to respect their safety and the safety of others.

The laws are written for that personality who looks for the line in the sand and challenges it. So back to where we started: why soften the expectation for a group that could be legally right and just as injured, or worse, if they lose a contest with a car or truck? Better licensure of cyclists? It has been discussed as well, but why if lawmakers soften the law?

The expectation is for cyclists to follow the traffic code, just as an automobile driver. Inconvenient at times? Yes. But it is the safest of alternatives, except riding designated bike paths. Ultimately, Colorado needs to leave the law alone, and Nebraska lawmakers need to be wary of anyone who proposes allowing cyclists to blow through an intersection legally.

Should you own bonds when interest rates rise?

It's no secret that this has been a tough year for the stock market. But if you own bonds, you may also have some concerns.

What's happened is that the Federal Reserve has been raising interest rates to fight inflation. This can cause the value of your existing bonds to drop, because investors will want to buy the newly issued bonds that pay the higher rates.

Still, bonds continue to offer you some key benefits. For one thing, as long as you hold your bonds until maturity, you'll continue to receive the same interest payments. Also, bonds can help reduce the effects of market volatility on a stock-heavy portfolio.

And if you own a mix of short-, intermediate- and long-term bonds, you'll likely always have some bonds maturing. When they do, you can reinvest the proceeds into the new, higher-paying bonds.

It might not feel pleasant to see the current value of your bonds drop. But if you're not selling them before they mature, and you can take advantage of the opportunities afforded by higher interest rates, you'll find that owning bonds can still be a valuable part of your investment strategy.

Debt: there are ways out

Are you falling behind on your monthly payments? Do you constantly need to borrow money from loved ones to make ends meet? While you shouldn't ignore the indicators that you're pushing your limits with debt, there's no need to feel your situation is hopeless. It's possible to get your finances back in balance.

A licensed insolvency trustee can offer personalized advice to help you to better manage your budget and restructure your finances. They'll help you understand your options and guide you through the necessary steps. Here are some of the most common solutions.

- Debt consolidation consists of taking out a loan to pay off existing debts like credit cards and lines of credit at a more favorable interest rate. You repay this loan by making a single payment every month. Debt consolidation simplifies your monthly bills.

- A consumer proposal allows you to keep your assets while giving your creditors the option to reduce your debt amount or extend your repayment period. You may even be able to arrange for a combination of these two approaches.

A financial health expert can help you learn how to better use credit, create a more manageable budget and regain control of your finances.

Transitions and Thresholds

In her book How to Lead When You Don't Know Where You're Going, author Susan Beaumont discusses the liminal spaces many of us are facing.

She writes, "How do you lead an organization stuck between an ending and a new beginning – when the old way of doing things no longer works but a way forward is not yet clear? Beaumont calls such in-between times liminal seasons – threshold times when the continuity of tradition disintegrates, and uncertainty about the future fuels doubt and chaos. In a liminal season, it simply is not helpful to pretend we understand what needs to happen next."

There is one lesson that I have to learn over and over again, change happens. Most of us don't deal well with change because it usually occurs when we least expect it. Coworkers are gone because the projected sales numbers didn't hit their targets. A loved one dies unexpectedly on their way to work. A relationship has ended, and divorce papers will be signed.

Our churches are no less exempt from change. We have been doing our best to deal with Covid and circumstances outside our control for two years. This is the transitional change that we are living in right now. Many of our congregations were forced to put an action plan into place overnight, and many leaders in our congregations feel tired, frustrated, and exhausted.

Our congregation in Sidney joined the Vitality Initiative through the Nebraska Synod, which has offered us a unique gift. This gift invited us to slow down rather than speed up. We don't know where we are going, which is the beauty of this new threshold. We set out with zero expectations other than being gentle with ourselves and listening with compassion as we heard the Spirit's voice.

I have often said that if we are going to be Easter people, we must go through the season of Lent. If we are going to see new life, we are going to suffer death. In the Gospel of John, Jesus commands Lazarus to come out (John 11:38), and Jesus commands them, "unbind him, and let him go."

In this season of change, we are suffering death through the unexpected changes in our lives and congregations. This is the lesson I must remember; change happens, and death will come. Yet, I have faith and confidence that as Jesus calls us to come out of our caves, we will be surrounded by those who care for us by unbinding our bandages; and bringing us back from the dead with the gift of new life.

We don't know who took off Lazarus' bandages, which is this story's gift; it leaves the imagination open. How are you tending to the wounds of others, and how are the others tending to your wounds? The gift of hospitality opens our hearts to care and be cared for, and in this love for neighbor, we find new ways to move forward together. Being Easter people means death and resurrection work hand in hand to bring forth God's Kingdom and usher in something new.

21st Century Awarded State Youth Talent Initiative Grant

LINCOLN – Gov. Pete Ricketts recently announced MetalQuest and 21st Century Equipment as the recipients of the Developing Youth Talent Initiative (DYTI) grants for 2022. Launched by the Governor in 2015, DYTI introduces middle school students to careers in industries such as manufacturing, information technology, engineering, and healthcare. DYTI is administered by the Nebraska Department of Economic Development (DED).

“The Developing Youth Talent Initiative encourages partnership between private sector companies and schools to expose middle schoolers to the rewarding careers we have right here in Nebraska,” said Gov. Ricketts. “It’s part of the talent pipeline we’ve built to connect our youth with great-paying jobs in our state. We’ve seen strong results from DYTI. Since starting in 2015, it has successfully sparked students’ interest in high-demand fields like IT and manufacturing.”

DYTI provides competitive grants of up to $250,000 to for-profit employers, who partner with area schools to design innovative learning experiences that inspire seventh and eighth graders to explore careers in manufacturing, information technology, health care, and other high-growth industries.

“We are experiencing a critical need for talented professionals who possess the skills in information technology, math, and science to propel our industries forward and address labor shortages,” said Nebraska Department of Economic Development Director Anthony L. Goins. “The Developing Youth Talent Initiative is a program that has immense importance for the mission to grow our state and create opportunities for our young people.”

Since its inception, DYTI grants have reached 24,500 students across 66 Nebraska school districts. The two companies receiving today’s awards—MetalQuest and 21st Century Equipment—are set to impact at least 3,500 more students at 29 schools across 15 counties.

With an award of $125,000, MetalQuest is purchasing equipment such as a construction system to introduce students to industrial robotics automation and coding. They’re also partnering with schools in Gage, Jefferson, and Thayer counties to create a classroom curriculum with the grant award. As part of the DYTI partnership, MetalQuest teammates—who are knowledgeable in using manufacturing equipment—will provide classroom instruction alongside teachers.

21st Century Equipment is using its grant of $125,000 to purchase, construct, and assemble a mobile learning lab. The lab will serve students at 19 schools throughout the Nebraska Panhandle. The focus of the lab is to familiarize students with technology used in precision agriculture, such as the navigational software used to program automated routes for ag equipment like tractors.

Cullan Named Outstanding Service to Panhandle Agriculture Award Winner

The 2022 Outstanding Service to Panhandle Agriculture Award was presented to Chris Cullan of Hemingford during his Customer Appreciation Day, which he hosts each year for his wheat seed company.

Cullan is the 4th generation to be on the farm where he and his family raise sunflowers, dry beans, corn, sugar beets and wheat. Cullan owns and operates a wheat seed company where he works closely with Husker Genetics to sell wheat varieties that are developed and made available for wheat growers in the Panhandle.

“I was certainly surprised when I was presented the award,” said Cullan. “I accepted this on behalf of our team and family. Without our group, we would not be able to do what we have done.”

The Cullan family has been a strong supporter of Nebraska Extension and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln for many years. For the past 30 years, Cullan and his family host a Customer Appreciation Day, which his grandfather and Dr. Charlie Fenster, former UNL Dryland Cropping Systems Specialist, initiated. During this event many UNL Panhandle Research & Extension Center (PREC) Specialists and Educators have presented crop and entomology research to producers through the years.

“We as producers reach out to extension personnel when we have a problem,” said Cullan. “Our goal is to use this event to help growers make their operations better perhaps through prevention or by making their crop outcomes better without having a problem. We certainly hope they can take something home to help their bottom line.”

Through the years, Cullan has created a strong relationship with the UNL PREC Specialists and Educators by partnering with UNL on a variety of projects and on-farm studies and surveys. A portion of his acres are used as a wheat variety testing site for new wheat varieties, cultivars and lines.

“Chris has been a fantastic on-farm collaborator and advisor to my entomological research. In turn, he values the results that we produce and cares about seeing how our research can best help producers in the region,” said Jeff Bradshaw, UNL PREC Entomologist. “Chris has been very generous in letting us onto his production fields of wheat and sunflowers to aid in graduate student research projects. As a result, our studies that my students have published concerning wheat or sunflower insect management are very well grounded in actual production-scale solutions to some very challenging insect management issues.”

The Outstanding Service to Panhandle Agriculture award recognizes someone who provides outstanding service to agriculture in western Nebraska. The award criteria includes value of work done or cooperation with UNL specialists and educators; leadership in agriculture; community service other than agriculture; and level of impact on Panhandle agriculture.

Raider Volleyball Opens Against Sterling; Football Against Holdrege

Cross-Country Heads To Scottsbluff

Mike Motz

The opening of the 2022-23 school year means the return of Fall Sports, and the Sidney Red Raider Cross Country, Volleyball and Football teams will be challenged this week as they start their seasons.

On Thursday August 25, the Red Raider Cross Country team travels to Scottsbluff for their first competition of the new season, with the Girl's team looking for a quick start as they defend their State Title, and the Boy's team also looks for a strong start as they try to improve from Runner's Up last year to State Title winners.

Head Coach Donna Wiedeberg has had her team working out and running all summer, and they will be prepared for competitors looking to knock off the top Cross Country team in Western Nebraska.

Also on Thursday, the Lady Raider Volleyball team returns, looking for another trip to the State Tournament, and they start their season by hosting an always competitive Sterling Lady Tiger team. Sterling finished last year with an outstanding record of 22-and-8 in the very competitive 3A Patriot League and will challenge the Lady Raiders. Sidney Head Coach Julie Smith and her coaches have worked hard over the summer to get their team ready to go, and will rely on returning seniors Reese Riddle, Gabrielle Fortner and Rheagan Stanley to lead the team. Sidney has a deep bench and look for emerging freshman and sophomore standouts to have an impact on this year's team, and improve on last year's 21-and-15 record.

Friday night starts the season for the Red Raider Football team, and they open at home against the Holdrege Dusters, a team that struggled last year with a 2-and-7 record. However, one of those wins was a convincing 21-to-12 victory over the Red Raiders in Sidney, so the Sidney boys need to be at their best in their home opener. Sidney looks to build on last year's 2-and-7 record, and needs to improve on their passing game. Junior Isak Doty will return as quarterback, and hopefully will have more success passing the ball this season to make the Red Raider offense more dynamic and explosive.

Head Coach Ryan Smith is in his first year at the helm of the Red Raiders, but brings 25 years of coaching experience and was named Huskerland Prep's Coach of the Year two times in Class C2, in 2010 and in 2012. Look for the Red Raiders to lean on a solid inside running game and take advantage of their tall and speedy receivers to increase their scoring output from last year.

The Sidney Cross Country teams had their scrimmage on Thursday at Legion Park. The girls look to defend their State Title while the boys look to improve upon last year's State Runner-Up finish.

Sidney Girls Golf Opens 2022 Season At Home Tuesday

mike@suntelegraph.com

Sidney's Lady Raider Golf team opens their season on Tuesday, August 23 at Hillside Golf Course as they host the annual Sidney Invitational, and expect the best of the Panhandle teams to have a strong season as they open their season.

First-year Head Coach Tyler Shaw is focused on improvement for the team and wants to make sure the girls are having fun and are relaxed as they compete.

Senior Aubree Larson, who qualified for the State Tournament last year, returns as the team's leader. The team has three returning players from last year's team, so Shaw will need to assess the freshman and sophomore players to fill holes in the team's starting line up.

Shaw is focused on steady improvement for the team, and Tuesday's competition should be a good start to the process, as the girls are playing on a familiar course. Shaw is focusing on minimizing the stress level and getting his players to keep relaxed while navigating the course.

The team has nine varsity meets this year, with Tuesday's outing being the only meet at home this year.

Tee-off is at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, and the team hopes a good number of supporters can come out to cheer them on.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

WNCC Volleyball— The Number 18 ranked WNCC Cougar Volleyball team traveled to the Reiver Invite in Council Bluffs, Iowa, and won all four of their matches against higher-ranked teams. The Cougars swept number 3 ranked Missouri State-West Plains and Number 5 ranked Butler CC. They also beat Number 1 ranked Iowa Western CC and number 12 ranked Jefferson College.

Area Schools Start Fall Sports Seasons Get Underway

mike@suntelegraph.com

The Cheyenne County area schools are gearing up for the start of the Fall Sports season this week, and all of the teams look to get a strong start and have successful campaigns. Potter-Dix starts off on Thursday hosting a Volleyball Triangular in Potter against Leyton and Minatare. The Lady

Coyotes look to improve on last year's 11-and-18 record, and face off against a Minatare team they had success against last year and a tough Leyton team that will show the Lady Coyotes where they stand as the season opens. The Potter-Dix Football team, off an undefeated regular season and trip to the State Championship game last season, looks to win it all this year. Senior standout Luke Kasten looks to lead the Coyotes all the way, and Head Coach Dale Frerichs will have some challenges replacing graduated standouts Thomas Muldoon and Jared Anton.

Potter-Dix starts their season Friday at 2 p.m. at Minatare, a team that struggled with a 1-and-7 record last year. Look for the Coyotes to have no trouble against the Indians, and get younger players fully involved in the game.

The Leyton Warrior teams are ready for the season, and start off this week with the Cross Country team heading to Scottsbluff on Thursday. Also on Thursday, the Lady Warrior Volleyball team opens in a Triangular against Minatare and Potter-Dix in Potter. Last year's team opened the season with five match wins in a row en route to a 16-and-13 record, and looks to improve upon that mark. The Warrior Football team looks to improve upon last year's 7-and-3 record and second place D2-10 finish, and travels on Friday to start the season against a Hemingford Bobcats team that struggled last year with a 1-and-7 record, its lone win coming by forfeit.

The Creek Valley Storm starts their Fall Sports season with the Girls Golf team traveling to Chimney Rock Golf Course on Thursday to compete at the Bayard Invitational. The Volleyball team also starts their season on Thursday, traveling to Grant to match up against Perkins County and Sutherland in a Triangular Meet. The Storm Football team starts their season on Friday, with a 1:30 p.m. kickoff against Sioux County in Harrison. The Storm looks to avenge last year's two-point loss to the Warriors in the opener.

In Peetz, the Bulldog teams start their Fall Sports season on Thursday when the Volleyball team travels to Fleming to match up against the Lady Wildcats, and it should be a very tough match for the Lady Bulldogs as the Fleming girls are coming off a 23-and-6 season where they went deep into the post-season brackets.

The Bulldog Football team opens on the road on Friday night against a Kiowa Indians team that went winless last season, so it will be a great opportunity for Peetz to get a fast start to the season.

Troopers Stop 72 Speeders for 100 MPH+ During Statewide Campaign

(LINCOLN) — The Nebraska State Patrol has completed the Stop Speeding Before It Stops You campaign, in partnership with hundreds of law enforcement agencies across the country.

The effort, which ran from July 20 through August 14, was designed for increased enforcement and awareness around the issue of speeding on roadways across Nebraska. Throughout the campaign, troopers issued more than 1,700 speeding citations across the state. 72 of those traffic stops were for drivers speeding at or above 100 miles per hour. Another 364 drivers were cited for speeding between 90 and 99 miles per hour.

"Schools are back in session across most of the state and summer vacations are coming to a close," said Colonel John Bolduc, Superintendent of the Nebraska State Patrol. "Whether traveling on the interstate or in a school zone, it's critical to watch your speed to keep others and yourself safe."

In addition to the speeding citations, troopers also assisted more than 1,100 motorists in need of help on Nebraska roads during the campaign. Troopers made 69 arrests for impaired driving and issued citations for open alcohol container (38), minor in possession (25), driving under suspension (129), no proof of insurance (78), no seat belt (43), and improper child restraint (16).

This effort was made possible thanks in part to a grant for $20,000 from the Nebraska Department of Transportation – Highway Safety Office.

Here And There

The amount of gold dust shipped from Sidney for the seven days ending Aug. 17th, amounted to $13,364.80

Julesberg would be a good place for some enterprising man to open a wholesale liquor store, as there are temperance meetings down there nearly every night now.

--This time one year ago we would have smiled sardonically at the man who said that Sidney in August of 1877, would contain a bona fide population of 3,986 souls.

Mr. Van Tassell has about thirty-five car loads of splendid beeves left over for eastern shipment, after sorting out a few thousand head for his new ranges up north.

The Lodge Pole river at this point occasionally prances about over the meadows, but it don't wash away four hundred acres of arable land as the Big Muddy did just south of council Bluffs a few days since.

--Full teams of milch cows, hauling wagons loaded down with frowsy women and dirty children are quite a common spectacle in Sidney. The outfits are chiefly from the Montana and Washington Territories.

Police Reports

The store of W.W. Young, at Lodgepole, was entered on Tuesday night and the safe blown open from which over $200 was taken. No clue has been discovered as to who did the mischief but it is supposed that it was done by strangers.

Burglars entered the store of T. B. Dawson last Sunday during his absence and stole $32.00. An entrance was effected through a back window from which a pane of glass had been broken. The money was in the safe but neither it nor the money drawer was locked and the thieves found no trouble getting in gathering in all the money in the store. Nothing was taken except cash. No trace of the the thieves has been found.

Messrs. Burns and Thomas were arrested last Saturday by Marshal Stuhrt, charged with petty larceny. On Monday they were tried before Judge Tucker, found guilty, and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. Both men are strangers here and attempted to make a stkae by purloining four pair of shoes in the McLernon store while the clerks were engaged in the back part of the store. They secured the goods and escaped but attempted to sell the shoes before leaving town and this led to their capture.

New Success Scored By Shirley Mason

A crowded house should greet the pretty Fox star, Shirley Mason, when she appears at the U.S.A. Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday nights in "Yours Very Truly", a story from the pen of Helen Hawkins. The tale is a simple one fundamentally, dealing with a young hotel stenographer's violent wooing, sudden marriage, subsequent misunderstandings and ultimate content and happiness. But in the development of the story there is much cleverly conceived incident and constant play of delicate humor.

The star has a role with which she is plainly is in utter sympathy and the result is that she has her audience with her from the start. The daintiness of her work, which has become proverbial in the motion picture world, is here seen at its best. This new photoplay is most wholesome entertainment, and the star is supported by a company of fine calibre throughout. Harry Beaumont is responsible for the direction.

Miss Mason, by the way, has an exceedingly attractive new leading man in Allan Forrest.

And besides this wonderful picture there will be Harold Lloyd in his funniest of comedies, "High and Dizzy", which alone is a big attraction and worth the price of admission in itself.

Harvest At End, Little Piling Here

Yields Run About Normal And Six Million Bushel Estimate Still Holds

xcept in widely scattered fields, the 1947 wheat harvest is over in Cheyenne County. Where cutting is still going on, progress is slow and arduous. This is in the fields that were damaged by hail, heavy rains and freezes and are matted and tangled. Pick-up reels have been necessary to pick up the heads knocked to the ground by hail. Frequent breakdowns have resulted.

It was a big harvest for those who escaped hail damage. The late freezes took an undeniable toll, but per acre yields were very satisfactory in most instances. Reports of 50 and 55 bushel wheat were heard, but most of the grain ran from 25 to 35 bushels. It was of good quality, although the protein content was not as high as last year.

Farmers have found storage places for most of the wheat. There are a few piles on the ground, but nothing to compare with last year. Far more wheat was placed in farm bins this season because farmers anticipated a storage and shipping bottleneck and prepared for it. One of the largest open piles in this part of the country is at Peetz, where the elevators were jammed to the rafters and couldn't handle any more grain.

Many farmers think Cheyenne County's estimate of six million bushels was too high. They contend this would have been the yield had it not been for the July 21 hail storm, which may have cut a million bushels from the total. However, The Telegraph believes the six million figure will be corroborated when the final figures are compiled.

Contract Awarded For Dix I-80 Leg

Missouri Valley Construction Co. has been given a $2,652,177 contract for a construction project on Interstate 80, the Department of Roads reported. The project located on Interstate 80, one point one mile east of the Dix Interchange extends for 7.2 miles east. The contract includes grading, gravel, detour pavement and fence work. The project is financed with Department of Roads and allocated federal highway funds.

There will be no detours, the DOR said.

The Department also announced that work is scheduled to begin Sept. 5 on a project starting at Interstate 80 from one mile west of the Sunol Interchange to one mile west of the Lodgepole Interchange.

DeGroff's Construction

Company of Atkinson has the $13,436 contract for the installation of safety beam guard rail. September 26 is the estimated completion date. W.M. Rempel of Sidney is the project manager.

Sidney Schools Enrollment Down By 61, But School Officials Say Final Figures Remain Uncertain

Sidney Public Schools may be facing a sharp reduction in student numbers, according to first-day enrollments at local schools. The overall count at the Sidney schools Friday, the first day all students attended, shows an enrollment of 1,331 students. That compares with 1,392 students who reported last year on the first day of school. The final count at the end of the school year was 1,384 students, according to district officials.

School officials point out the counts taken next week will more accurately reflect the school enrollment for the year.

In and around the southern Panhandle, most schools reported slight increases or decreases compared with last year's enrollment.

The largest changes came at Potter-Dix schools, where this year's total of 226 students is six fewer than attended last year at this time. There are 53 students in the elementary school, 91 in the middle school and 82 in the high school, according to the district.

Leyton will see an increase of one student from last year's total. At the Gurley site this year, 181 students are enrolled. The Dalton site has 85 students attending. Last year there were 191 students in Gurley and 74 in Dalton.

In Chappell, high school enrollment is up slightly over last year's, according to school officials. In kindergarten through sixth grade, 139 students are enrolled. There are 43 in the junior high and 96 in the high school.

State Patrol Joins Labor Day Campaign Against Drunk Drivers

The Nebraska State patrol will participate in a nationwide campaign, today through Labor Day on Sept. 3, designed to keep impaired drivers off roadways.

The You Drink & Drive—You Lose crackdown concentrates on drinking and driving in an effort to take alcohol-impaired drivers off our roads as we head into the final holiday of the summer travel season.

Troopers and dispatchers will utilize hours Aug. 31 through Sept.3 in conjunction with the You Drink & Drive—You Lose campaign and as part of the patrol's Labor Day weekend enforcement efforts. The overtime hours are paid for thanks in part to a nearly $18,000 grant from the Nebraska Office of Highway Safety (NOHS).

NOHS statistics show that one Nebraskan dies every four days in an alcohol-related crash. In 2006, there were 77 alcohol-related fatal crashes, with 86 fatalities linked to alcohol use. More than 13,000 arrests were made for driving under the influence.

NOTICE OF HEARING TO ALL PARTIES IN INTEREST AND CITIZENS OF

SIDNEY, NEBRASKA
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a public hearing before the City Council of the City of Sidney, Nebraska, will be held on Tuesday, September 13, 2022, at 6:15 P.M., at City Hall, 1115 13th Avenue, Sidney, NE 69162, to consider and possibly take action on a "Workforce Housing Tax Increment Financing Incentive Plan" pursuant to the Nebraska Community Development Law, Nebraska Revised Statutes, sections 18-2101, et seq. If adopted, the plan would authorize the use and administration of heightened tax increment financing incentives for redevelopment projects meeting the criteria of "workforce housing" under the Nebraska Community Development Law.

Pursuant to the plan, such incentives would be available in all areas which have previously been designated as blighted and substandard community redevelopment areas by the City Council. A map of all such currently-existing areas is available for review at the office of the City Clerk at 1115 13th Avenue, Sidney, NE 69162, telephone number 308-254-5300.

/s/ Lori Borchert, City Clerk

NOTICE OF MEETING Rural Fire District No. 2 Regular Annual Meeting
PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the governing body of Rural Fire District No. 2 will meet immediately following the close of the Budget Hearing on Wednesday, September 7, 2022 at the Gurley Fire Hall in Gurley, NE.

[Published in the Sidney Sun-Telegraph August 24, 2022]

L22-570 NOXIOUS WEEDS MUST BE CONTROLLED
You are required to control noxious weeds on your property.

The noxious weeds are: Musk Thistle, Plumeless Thistle, Canada Thistle, Leafy Spurge, Knapweed (spotted and diffuse), Purple Loosetrife, Saltcedar, Phragmites, Knotweed (Japanese and Giant), Sericea Lespedeza, Field Bindweed, Scotch Thistle and Common Mullein. Notice is hereby given this 24th day of August, 2022, pursuant to the Noxious Weed Control Act, section 2-955, subsection 1(a), to every person who owns or controls land in Cheyenne County, Nebraska, that noxious weeds being grown, or growing on, such land shall be controlled at such frequency as to prevent establishment, provide eradication, or reduce further propagation or dissemination of such weeds.

Upon failure to observe this notice, the county weed superintendent is required to:

- Proceed pursuant to the law and issue legal notice to the landowner of property infested with noxious weeds and giving such landowner 15 days to control the noxious weed infestation. Conviction for noncompliance may result in a $100 per day fine to the landowner, with a maximum fine of $1,500; or
- Should more immediate control be required, proceed pursuant to the law and have the weeds controlled by such method as he/she finds necessary, the expense of which shall constitute a lien and be entered as a tax against the land, and be collected as other real estate taxes are collected, or by other means, as provided by law.

Also, the public is notified that noxious weed seed and propagative parts may be disseminated through the movement of machinery and equipment, trucks, grain and seed, hay, straw, nursery stock, fencing materials, sod, manure, and soil as well as articles of similar nature. Methods of treatment have been prescribed by the Director of Agriculture and may be obtained from the county weed control authority.

By Order of Cheyenne County Weed Control Authority.

NOTICE OF AMENDMENT OF BUDGET HEARING AND BUDGET SUMMARY
Sidney Public Schools (17-0001) in Cheyenne County, Nebraska

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given, in compliance with the provisions of State Statute Sections 13-501 to 13-513, that the governing body will meet on the 30th day of August, at 5:15pm o'clock, at Sidney Public Schools Board Room for the purpose of hearing support, opposition, criticism, suggestions or observations of taxpayers relating to amending the budget which was originally adopted on the 13th day of September, 2021. Due to unforeseen circumstances, actual expenditures for the current fiscal year will exceed budgeted expenditures unless the correct fiscal year budget of expenditures is revised. The lunch food expenditures were more than budgeted due to the free lunch program. The originally adopted budget of expenditures cannot be reduced during the remainder of the correct fiscal year to meet the need for additional money because we need to pay wages and food expenses. The budget detail is available at the office of the Secretary during regular business hours.

Look Out! I'm Back!

With the permission of my wife, of course. So buckle up and prepare for another series of politically incorrect articles.

After watching the serious over reach of the enforcement arm of the Democratic Party In Power, aka FBI's raid on former President Donald Trump's Mar-a Lago residence, I can not remain silent.

Yes, this might be dangerous as it could induce the radical left into requesting their army of political correctness enforcers to raid my home, subject me to a strip search and put me in leg irons. So be it. Someone has to start standing up against this radical unAmerican and illegal trend that seems to have infected our current national government.

Beginning with the January 6 investigation by obviously power hungry members of Congress, the egregious treatment of their political "enemies" (putting them in leg irons, strip searches, etc.) and progressing to the recent armed invasion of President Donald Trump's Florida residence, we've watched things happen in America that previously only happened in Soviet Russia, Red China and 3rd world dictatorships.

The last time something like this happened on this continent was during the days before the American Revolution broke Great Britain's choke hold on the American Colonies. It took a war and the shedding of blood to break that hold.

I hope and pray we DO NOT have to go to that extreme to restore our freedoms. I say "our freedoms" because if they can do to you and I.

So, instead of the bullet box, all freedom loving Americans need to use the ballot box in coming elections. I strongly urge every voter to take a close look at every candidate and every issue on the November ballot.

Do your homework IN ADVANCE. Learn precisely what each candidate espouses. Look at their voting records and compare that with their press releases. Who you select with your vote can make the difference between a free nation and slavery to everyone, except, of course, the political elite.

We, The People, need to take back control of government, starting with the local level and making OUR way up to the national level. It is time to break the power of the elite and bring it back to We, The People. Yes, I know such a program could entail hazard. Standing up to bullies always does. But if you don't, you'll eventually regret it.

Mike Sunderland
Thoughts from a Grey-haired Point of View

In future articles I'll be using my past experiences to illustrate the why's and where for's I believe what I do, and why I take the stand that I do. I do this for one reason, and one reason only: to remind each of us of our past. Look at where you started, then look at where you are and choose where you want to be in the future. Your vote counts.

My forebears fought in every war for freedom from the Revolutionary War, the Civil War, two World Wars, and the Korean war. I enlisted during the Vietnam War, my eldest son served in the Army at Eagle Base in Bosnia, my eldest daughter was stationed on Guam, and my eldest granddaughter was in Afghanistan.

Now, I take my stand with the printed word, rather than the bullet. God help us to use the spoken and written word to bring America out from under the heavy boot of political correctness and back into the blessedness of freedom.

If we fail to do so this coming election, we may never have another chance.

Dove Hunting Season Opens Sept. 1 in Nebraska

With the annual dove season opener on Sept. 1, the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission has some reminders for hunters, as well as recommendations for areas to hunt.

Doves are abundant statewide and, with generous bag limits, provide excellent wing-shooting opportunities. Doves may be hunted statewide Sept. 1 – Oct. 30, 2022, with daily bag and possession limits of 15 and 45, respectively. Bag and possession limits are for mourning, white-winged and Eurasian collared-doves in aggregate. Shooting hours are 30 minutes before sunrise until sunset.

Sunflowers, millet and wheat, which generally provide good food sources and dove hunting opportunities, were planted on numerous wildlife management areas earlier this year. For a listing of these "dove fields," view the 2022 Dove Hunting Fact Sheet at OutdoorNebraska.gov/SmallGameSpecies.

Drought conditions are affecting many areas of the state; hunters should follow proper safety practices to prevent wildfires.

Preseason scouting is recommended due to changing habitat conditions. All publicly accessible sites throughout the state – including federal, state, conservation partner and private lands enrolled in Game and Parks' Open Fields and Waters Program – are displayed in the 2022-2023 Public Access Atlas, which can be found at OutdoorNebraska.org/PublicAccessAtlas. Private lands throughout the state also provide excellent hunting opportunities for doves.

Hunters are reminded they must obtain landowner permission prior to accessing private lands in Nebraska.

Nebraska residents 16 years and older and all nonresidents are required to have a valid Nebraska small game hunting permit, habitat stamp and Harvest Information Program number. Get the free HIP number at OutdoorNebraska.gov/hip or at any Game and Parks office. Federal and state migratory bird hunting stamps, or duck stamps, are not required to hunt doves. Shotgun plugs restricting it to no more than three shells also are required.

Hunters who harvest a dove with a leg band should contact the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service at reportband.gov. In addition, randomly selected hunters will be asked to save one wing from each dove during the first week of the season and mail them postage-free to the Service.

Eurasian collared-doves may be harvested between Oct. 31, 2022, and Aug. 31, 2023, with bag and possession limits of 15 and 45, respectively.

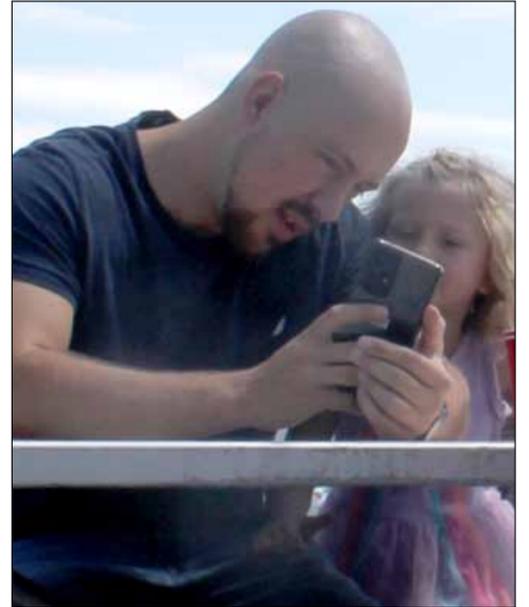

For summaries of hunting regulations, read the Small Game and Waterfowl Guide at OutdoorNebraska.gov/guides. Purchase permits at OutdoorNebraska.org.
